Crisis Worsens As
deGaulle's Backers
Claim New Success

BULLETIN

PARIS (AP) — About 30,000 leftist demonstrators marched through Paris today to protest a return of Gen. Charles de Gaulle to power. At almost the same time the general left his country home and sped toward the capital.

By STANLEY JOHNSON

PARIS (AP) — President Rene Coty began searching for a new French premier today after Pierre Pflimlin offered his resignation. Many Frenchmen thought that by nightfall Gen. Charles de Gaulle would get the call to office. After de Gaulle announced Tuesday that he already was forming a government without being legally asked, the Assembly rebuffed him by giving Pflimlin a 408-165 vote of support.

But the Conservative Independents deserted the government on the vote and the party's three ministers quit the Cabinet. Pflimlin, red-eyed from day and night efforts to save his government from Gaullists in Algeria and Corsica, then met with the remainder of his two-week-old Cabinet and hurried to see Coty at 3 a.m. Says Regime Weakened Pflimlin said the defection of the independents had weakened the government at a crucial moment and he could not go on. The President refused to let him step aside until a new premier was ready to take over, seeking to avoid a power vacuum while France is threatened with civil strife. Pflimlin accepted the compromise and Coty began talking with political leaders. The President said he hoped to be able to name a candidate to succeed Pflimlin by evening.

If Coty decided not to call de Gaulle, the best guess was that he would ask Socialist Guy Mollet to try to form a government. Mollet holds the postwar record for length of office as premier. The outcome was hopefully awaited in Algiers, where the crisis was touched off May 13 by a military-civilian seizure of power in defiance of Paris. The junta ruling Algeria and since last Saturday Corsica, has vowed to remain defiant until de Gaulle takes over.

Some 50,000 persons, the largest crowd since the insurgent movement began, demonstrated Tuesday night in Algiers demanding de Gaulle as a strongman leader of France.

Paris remained quiet but was tense with rumors that the paratroopers who sparked the Algeria (Continued on Page 2; Col. 4)

Three Killed In Air Crash

CLOVIS, N. M. (AP) — Three pilots died Tuesday in the collision of two Super Sabre Jets over Cannon Air Force Base. A two-seater F100F and a single seat F100D collided while the F100F was making an emergency landing.

The dead were identified by the Air Force as Capt. William R. Gilmore, 30, Interlaken, N.Y.; Lt. William R. Jarmon, 24, North Arlington, Va.; and Lt. Leslie Ikeda, 28, Honolulu. Gilmore and Jarmon were in the two-seater.

The base said the F100F was at a "pretty low altitude" making an emergency landing approach because of radio failure.

House Group Asks Defense Fund Boosted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today ordered a speedup in missile and antisubmarine warfare programs. It did so in recommending $38,310,561,000 in new cash for defense in the coming fiscal year.

Approving $113,614,000 more than the Defense Department had asked, the committee vetoed administration plans to reduce the strength of the National Guard, the Army Reserves and the Marine Corps. It also provided funds for nine new missile-launching nuclear submarines instead of the five proposed by President Eisenhower.

The committee allotted $2,732,985,000 for research and development, including 510 million dollars for space research. All the recommendations are subject to House action next week.

Here are the amounts the committee recommended, for the fiscal years starting next July 1, for the office of the secretary, inter-service activities, Army, Navy and Air Force, compared with funds appropriated this year:

|         |                |                |
|---------|----------------|----------------|
| Office  | $536,050,000  | $16,350,000   |
| Service | 796,900,000    | 682,375,000    |
| Army    | 8,617,626,000  | 7,264,550,000  |
| Navy    | 11,042,210,000 | 10,216,355,000 |
| Air     | 17,317,755,000 | 16,320,220,000 |

Eisenhower asked a big increase in funds for the office of the secretary of defense, with the bulk of the request earmarked for the new Advanced Research Projects Agency.

Jurist Defers Any Action On Slayer's Plea

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Action on a convicted Greene County murderer's petition for a writ of Habeas corpus has been withheld by a Federal judge until the man has exhausted all appeals in the state courts.

James M. Fletcher of Bobtown is serving a life term in Western State Penitentiary for the 1954 shotgun slaying of Gerald Turner near Bobtown.

Fletcher seeks freedom on grounds two members of the jury which convicted him were related to principals in the case.

Warmup Due For Holiday

BALTIMORE (AP) — Five-day forecast: Temperatures will average near or slightly below normal for the period. Cooler Thursday, warmer Friday, cooler again Saturday or Sunday. Scattered showers Sunday will average about 4 1/2 inch. Normal high temperatures range from 75-80. Normal lows are in the mid-50s except in the mid-40s in Garrett County.

Postal Rates Rise Aug. 1, Pay Boosted

WASHINGTON (AP) — It'll cost you 4 cents to mail a letter, starting Aug. 1. Although voicing some objections, President Eisenhower Tuesday signed a bill providing boosts in rates in letters, air mail, post cards, newspapers, magazines and advertising matter.

The legislation also carries pay increases for some 520,000 postal workers and forehadows probable pay hikes for another million workers in the government's civil service.

Effective Aug. 1, the price of a letter stamp will rise 1 cent from the 3 cents in effect since 1932. On that same date, air mail will go up from 6 cents to 7 and post cards from 2 to 3 cents.

Higher rates for newspapers, magazines and advertising matter will become effective next Jan. 1.

Rates on the advertising portion of newspapers and magazines will rise 60 per cent in three annual jumps. On the editorial portion of these publications, the rate will go up 30 per cent, also in three annual stages.

For advertising matter, the rate will increase 66 2/3 per cent in two annual steps.

Excise Tax Due To Be Extended

WASHINGTON (AP) — Another year's extension of corporation income and excise tax rates at present levels was due to be approved today by the House Ways and Means Committee.

The bipartisan decision to continue such tax rates unchanged until June 30, 1959, all but ruled out any substantial personal income or other tax cuts this year.

Hoffa Trying To Get Union Back In Fold

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teamsters Union boss James R. Hoffa is busily courting a bevy of friends in the AFL-CIO in an apparent effort to get his scandal-scattered truck union readmitted into the big federation.

The chances are considered slim that the AFL-CIO will soon forget or forgive the corruption charges on which Hoffa's Teamsters were ousted.

The Teamsters made chummy moves toward four AFL-CIO unions, most of them offers of bread-and-butter economic help.

That none of these has been turned down is a source of embarrassment to the AFL-CIO, particularly its president, George Meany. The AFL-CIO constitution says any affiliated union having formalities with a union ousted for corruption is itself subject to being kicked out.

There has been no comment from AFL-CIO headquarters as Hoffa announced on subsequent days that he was working out programs with the AFL-CIO Office Workers and Brewery Workers unions, ancient foes of the Teamsters.

Monday, Hoffa announced in Chicago his union and the AFL-CIO Retail Clerks Union had worked out a joint settlement of a labor dispute with Montgomery Ward & Co.

Wealthy Texan Kept $290,000 Cache In Cellar

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The late James M. West, multimillionaire rancher-oilman who liked to give away silver dollars, left an estimated $290,000 in cash in a hidden cellar of his mansion here.

Atty. Robert H. Parsley said the existence of the hidden treasure, in silver dollars and smaller coins, had been kept secret for fear of prowlers in the West home.

An armored car was reported to have made seven trips in carrying the money to the Texas National Bank, where it was piled 5 feet high in an area of 8 by 10 feet in a counting room.

West, a diabetic, died Dec. 18, at the age of 54. An inventory of his estate has not been filed, but unofficial estimates of its value run as high as 100 million dollars.

Second U.S. 'Basketball' Proves Flop

Satellite Carried By Vanguard Falls In Atlantic Ocean

By BEN FUNK

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The second of the Navy's basketball-sized satellites wound up today like the first—at the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean.

Fired aloft shortly before midnight by the Vanguard rocket, the 20-inch ball flew 2,000 miles out to space, then plunged back to earth.

Five hours of baffling silence followed the launching before Dr. John P. Hagen, director of Project Vanguard, announced that the 21 1/2-pound sphere did not go into orbit.

All Engines Fired
The engines of the three-stage Vanguard all fired as expected, Hagen said.

But the satellite was not boosted into a horizontal direction necessary to place it in orbit. Instead, it flew out in a wide arc, then fell back into the earth's atmosphere.

It was the fourth failure in five tries since the Vanguard rocket first was fired as a complete three-stage vehicle.

The first Vanguard exploded four feet off its launching pad. The second blew apart 20,000 feet off the ground. The third launched Vanguard I, the 35-pound satellite now in orbit. The fourth fell into the sea.

By contrast, the Army has a record of two successes in three tries with its Jupiter-C satellite launching rocket, which hurled the two Explorers into orbit.

Tuesday night's Vanguard launching appeared at the start to be perfect.

Within minutes, an optimistic Navy announcement said the engines in all three stages of the rocket had fired in proper sequence.

In quick succession thereafter, the satellite's signals were picked up at down-range listening posts in the Bahamas Islands and the British West Indies.

Then came a confusing silence. In San Diego, Calif., where radio receivers brought first word that the United States' three other satellites were in orbit and had completed their first trips around the earth, listeners waited in vain.

Hours after the launching, a baffled Vanguard spokesman in Washington said, "We honestly don't know" if the sphere went into orbit.

Flight Termed 'Abnormal'
"We've had an abnormal flight," said Dr. Richard W. Porter, chairman of the Vanguard satellite panel.

There had been high optimism here until the continued silence at San Diego blasted all hopes of a successful launching.

The potential satellite—small in size by Soviet standards but big in scientific importance—made an impressive departure from earth in the nose of the 72-foot rocket.

Negro, 20, Held In Rape, Robbery

CHARLESTON (AP) — Chief of Police Dallas Bias said today that a 20-year-old Negro has been charged with raping and robbing a white married woman two days ago.

Bias identified the man as Dan Ellis Martin Jr. of Charleston.

A 42-year-old woman told police that a Negro man with a woman's stocking pulled over his head entered the West Side substation of a dry cleaning company while she was working alone there Monday morning.

Senate Set To Pass Jobless Wage Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate drove today toward passage of an emergency jobless pay bill after overwhelming rejection of an effort to make basic revisions in the system.

The measure, already passed by the House and endorsed by the Eisenhower administration, would authorize federal advances to the states for a temporary extension of unemployment benefit payments.

A major issue still to be settled is whether the extended payments will be optional with each state, as the House voted, or whether they will be made mandatory, as President Eisenhower originally asked.

Senators seeking to strengthen the bill contend it is virtually useless, but on the first test vote Tuesday they were defeated 63-21. The vote came on a substitute measure offered by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.).

Administration leaders have called for passage of the House bill without change so that there will be no further delay in extending aid to unemployed who already have exhausted their benefit rights.

The extension in most states would be 13 weeks. The money advanced by the federal government would have to be repaid by the states starting in 1963.

Up for action as the Senate went into a second day of debate on the bill was an amendment by Kennedy to extend the duration of present benefit payments by 16 weeks in all states.

States would be excused from repaying the federal government if, by 1963, they had revised their laws to provide benefits for at least 30 weeks equal to 50 per cent of a worker's average wage or if their unemployment trust funds were in precarious condition.

First Negro Gets Diploma At Central High Exercises
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Central High School awarded a diploma to a Negro for the first time in an orderly commencement protected by 220 city police and federalized National Guardsmen Tuesday night.

Shortly after the ceremony the soldiers left the school area. There were no incidents at the floodlit stadium.

"I'm happy that's all over," said Ernest Green, the lanky 16-year-old Negro who made history. "I'm going to New York to live it up."

Green said a New York hotel restaurant union had invited him to spend a week's vacation there.

Eisenhower Sees Slump Nearing End

Declares He Likes deGaulle But Shuns Comment On Crisis

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today he believes the recession has largely spent itself.

America is weathering it well, he told a news conference at which he explained his stand against tax cuts.

Eisenhower said the current economic situation does not warrant any reductions that could create further deficit spending.

Though he said he thinks the recession has largely spent its force, the President declined to predict when there will be a business upturn and full employment again. He said he is no prophet.

The first question to Eisenhower was a request that he explain why he came out earlier this week against any general tax cut—any, as the reporter put it, anti-recession reduction.

Sees Question 'Loaded'
Bristling a bit, Eisenhower said it looked to him as though the newsman was asking a loaded question. The President said he is not sure that any tax cut could be pictured as an anti-recession move.

As he has done many times in the past, the President said the tax situation has been a matter for careful and intense study. And, he went on, he finally decided that as of now the economic situation does not warrant any reductions beyond already proposed relief for small business.

Eisenhower also dealt with these other matters:

FRANCE — At the outset of the conference the President said the situations in crisis ridden France and Lebanon are too delicate for him to discuss, so he was asking that those matters be, as he put it, taken off the question list.

In response to a question later he did say he happens to be one of those people who liked Gen. Charles de Gaulle when he knew him during and after World War II.

A reporter asked if Eisenhower could give his personal opinion of de Gaulle without reference to the political situation in France.

Eisenhower replied that he happens to be one of those people who like de Gaulle. He said he and the French general have had long and friendly relations.

Students Fined In Outbreak On Carnegie Campus

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Six Carnegie Tech students were minus $10 apiece today after paying fines for their parts in a wild campus outbreak Tuesday morning.

They were among some 1,000 young men who showed up at a women's dormitory to watch a ceremony in which senior girls were dunked in a pool.

When the girls went back into the dorm, they threw paper bags filled with water on the male students. Others waved lingerie from windows.

"The girls," said Policeman Daniel J. Hughes, "were hanging out windows and agitating the students—and they were really agitated."

Police arrived in patrol cars. They were pelted with eggs and water bags. One was kicked. Stones were hurled at patrol cars, smashing a window in one.

Reserve Board Sees Jobless Situation As Leveling Off

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Reserve Board said today it sees some signs of a leveling off in the unemployment situation.

The board said in its monthly Federal Reserve Bulletin that since February there has been a slight drop in the number of persons unemployed for four weeks or less. It said this may "indicate that layoffs have become less frequent and that seasonally adjusted unemployment may be leveling off."

April employment figures showed an increase for the ninth straight month in the seasonally adjusted rate of unemployment. The rate was 7 1/2 per cent of the labor force. May figures will be announced next week.

Nation Receives Nameless Dead

Three Days Of Ceremonial Honors Set In Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — With three days of ceremonial honors ahead, the nation receives formally today the Unknowns of World War II and Korea.

Welcomed ashore from the destroyer Blandy, they proceed to the Capitol to be acclaimed by the Congress, the Supreme Court, Cabinet undersecretaries and foreign diplomats.

Beneath the dome in the Capitol rotunda, they will lie in state in twin bronze caskets until Friday, when they will be transported to permanent tombs alongside that of the Unknown Soldier of World War I.

They reached Washington Tuesday aboard the Blandy, which brought them from a seaborne rendezvous at which the two were selected to symbolize for all time the 8,494 fighting men still unidentified from World War II and the 853 from the Korean War.

They reached Tuesday night side by side on the afterdeck of the destroyer, while sailor sentries stood an honor watch through the night.

At the Capitol, a full-scale, formal reception of the heroes' caskets was arranged before a distinguished company representing this and foreign governments.

Scores of organizations have notified the government of their wish to place wreaths at the caskets in the rotunda. They included veterans' organizations, war mothers' groups, veteran, auxiliary societies and many others.

First Missile Warship Joins Naval Vessels

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Navy commissions its first "Talos" missile warship today, a cruiser that carries an atomic weapon capable of destroying unseen planes or surface vessels more than 65 miles away.

The cruiser Galveston, freshly painted and its brass shining, officially goes into service 13 years after it was launched. Sponsoring the commissioning is Mrs. Clark W. Thompson of Galveston, wife of a Democratic congressman from Texas' 9th Dist.

The Galveston was launched in 1945 but was placed in reserve without being commissioned.

Conversion to a missile cruiser began 20 months ago. It will be completed by September for a shakedown cruise to the Caribbean.

Aged Evangelist To Join Graham In Bay Crusade

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Mordecai Ham, the evangelist who led Billy Graham to "decide for Christ" at a tent meeting 24 years ago, will share the spotlight with him tonight.

The 85-year-old Ham will fly from Louisville, Ky., his home, to speak at the Cow Palace on the 28th day of the Bay area crusade. Graham was 15 when he heard Ham at Montreat, N.C.

Graham addressed a crowd of 15,500 in the 16,500-seat arena Tuesday night, asking them to "avoid deceiving pretenses."

Tuesday noon he spoke in front of the Oakland, Calif., City Hall. Police estimated 12,000 heard him.

Housed in the 20-inch ball were instruments designed to measure ultraviolet rays from the sun, especially during the gigantic electrical eruptions in the sun's atmosphere known as solar flares.

When these flares occur, radio communication on earth sometimes is knocked out.

Some scientists suspect that these rays, by electrically charging the earth's atmosphere, may set up the violent air currents that give birth to destructive storms.

American Orchestra Given Ovation In Soviet Capital

MOSCOW (UPI)—An enthusiastic audience of 1,700 gave the Philadelphia Orchestra a standing ovation at its opening concert in Moscow last night.

Radio Moscow termed the show "remarkable" and said it met with "great success."

The 107 Philadelphia musicians, under the direction of Conductor Eugene Ormandy, played in the great hall of the Moscow Conservatory.

The program included Strauss' "Don Juan," Beethoven's Seventh Symphony, Copland's "Quiet City" and Mussorgsky's "Pictures at an Exhibition."

For an encore they played Samuel Barber's "Adagio."

The orchestra opened the concert by playing both the Soviet and the United States national anthems. The Soviet and American flags were side by side on the stage.

Soviet Composer Aram Kachaturian said he was very impressed with the orchestra but added, "I want to hear more before making a final judgment."

Soviet Pianist Emil Gilels, who played with the Philadelphia Orchestra in 1935, said his opinion was "already well known. We are old friends."

Troops Kept Ready

Police, some with tommyguns, ringed every major public building and reserve troops waited in buses in the parks off the Champs Elysees as they have for the last two weeks. But they did not have to go into action.

Strikes called for Tuesday by the Communists as a show of their bitter opposition to De Gaulle were short and lacked punch.

The events which led up to Pflimlin's resignation offer started late Monday night.

At De Gaulle's initiative, he and Pflimlin met secretly. "I asked him to use his authority to recall to their sense of duty those who were rising against republican order" but got no assurance, Pflimlin later told the Assembly.

A high government source said the Premier agreed to stand aside for the general.

De Gaulle's abrupt nighttime statement that he had started to form a government blew up any deal with the surprised Pflimlin, who said he had no advance knowledge of the announcement.

On hearing it, Pflimlin left an Assembly debate on his proposed constitutional reforms to strengthen executive powers, met with his Cabinet and then said he would stay in office.

Inflation Renewal Seen As New Foe To Economy

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower's decision against any tax cutting now indicates he believes that the recession is about over.

The new foe to be guarded against is a renewal of the inflation that has sheered off so much of the purchasing power of the dollar.

Those who think otherwise may still have their day in Congress and some predict that the excise taxes on autos may be cut to help sales of that beleaguered industry's product and on freight rates and passenger fares to help the faltering railroads.

Warm weather has brought a number of hopeful signs to back up the President's apparent view that the worst of the industrial slump is over. Outdoor jobs have opened up and cut the rise in unemployment. A number of industries have reported the first quickening of new orders after a long decline.

Steel mills are operating at a better rate than at any time since January — although some of the new orders may be to beat the price rise which seems sure to come after wages go up July 1.

The price rises, if they stick, will do their bit toward pushing along the new inflation which many observers fear will follow the slump.

Advocates of individual income and excise tax cutting now have argued it would stimulate consumer buying and put men back to work. Corporate income tax cutting and easier depreciation allowances, proponents say, would help business hold its profit margin without price hiking.

The argument against tax cutting—and the one the President seems to have accepted—is that rapidly increasing government spending means a growing treasury deficit and federal debt. A tax cut now would only make this worse. This would set the stage for future inflation, since the government would be pumping more money into the economy than it was taking out—a move roughly comparable to running the printing presses.

An alternative might be to cut back government spending. But that continues to mount at all levels—state and local as well as federal.

And the end, at least for the taxpayer, is not in sight.

Top Mental Facilities Established

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia will have one of the first modern vocational rehabilitation units connected with a mental hospital to be operated in the country beginning July 1.

Director William B. Rossman of the State Department of Mental Health and F. Ray Power, chief of the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, announced yesterday that they signed an inter-agency agreement to establish the state's first vocational rehabilitation unit at Huntington State Hospital.

Power said the unit will insure patients at the mental institution of services necessary to rehabilitate themselves and should assist hospital staff members, relatives and the community "to gain the understanding necessary to provide a favorable environment for the rehabilitation of mental patients."

Dr. Rossman and Power said the program should improve patients' chances for making a successful return to outside life. Hospital medical personnel will screen patients for rehabilitation potential before referring them to the unit.

Power said the unit will seek to establish suitable employment goals for persons selected and to provide the services necessary to prepare the patient for a job. There also will be assistance for discharged patients in finding employment.

When patients return to their homes in parts of the state away from Huntington, their cases will be referred to the rehabilitation counselor in the area for follow-through service and job placement.

The two state officials said the special unit will have a director, chief of treatment service, a rehabilitation counselor, coordinator, psychologist and social worker. Instructors in manual and domestic arts will be included.

Rossman and Power said the unit would begin its operation July 1 with an operating budget of $78,575 and a staff of 11.

Power explained that job training of patients will be concentrated in such areas in which past experience has indicated former patients may be expected to succeed and find employment. The vocational rehabilitation head added that actual on-the-job training may be provided patients who show the proper aptitudes and adjustment progress.

The mental hospital, which has 1,468 patients, operates its own farm, repair shops, laundry and other facilities. Power explained that on-the-job training could be provided in such facilities.

Power said similar grants to the one used as the basis of the inter-agency agreement are available for establishing rehabilitation facilities on a matching basis.

Other state agencies such as tuberculosis sanitariums, penal institutions and county school systems could join with the Vocational Rehabilitation Division, Power said, on the basis of 70 cents of division funds for 30 cents in matching funds provided by the cooperating agency or institution.

Housing Meeting Draws Many In Field

CHARLESTON (AP) — From 300 to 500 builders, lenders, lumber dealers and others gathered here today for what was described as the biggest state-wide meeting of the housing industry in the history of West Virginia.

Norman P. Mason, national commissioner of the Federal Housing Administration, and Gov. Underwood headed the list of scheduled speakers. Mason flew here last night from Washington, arriving shortly after the announcement was made that restrictions were being placed on FHA activity. Afternoon sessions included a symposium on housing, with state and national authorities taking part.

OUR COUNTRY

The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever.—Morris.

But Still Red

THE WESTERN WORLD hasn't had much to smile about lately, what with revolts and crises popping up in many places. Thus it can read with some comfort the fact that history is repeating itself in Yugoslavia. Ten years after Marshal Tito told the mighty Stalin to go jump in the Black Sea, he is telling off Nikita Khrushchev. It was Khrushchev, remember, who wanted to let bygones be bygones. He humbled himself sufficiently to visit Tito in Belgrade, where "great effort was undertaken to patch up the bitter Kremlin-Yugoslav quarrel. Slowly but surely thereafter it seemed that Khrushchev's policy was working, that Tito was being drawn back into the Soviet bloc. It reached the point where most Western statesmen grow disillusioned over Tito's alleged maintenance of an independent status.

BUT THEY RECKONED without their unwitting ally, the Kremlin. The new Russian rulers perhaps discovered afresh what Stalin had known all along, that a totalitarian system can't operate on a "let's all go our own way" basis. Khrushchev toughly told Tito to get in line or else. But that kind of talk is exactly what led him to defy Stalin a decade ago. He snapped back that he was bowing to nobody's ultimatum, never had, never would. Khrushchev, possibly chagrined and puzzled at the failure of his sweet-talk policy, finds himself adopting tactics just like Stalin's in answer to Tito's defiance. The economic squeeze is on. Russia may try to seal Yugoslavia off from the rest of the Communist orbit.

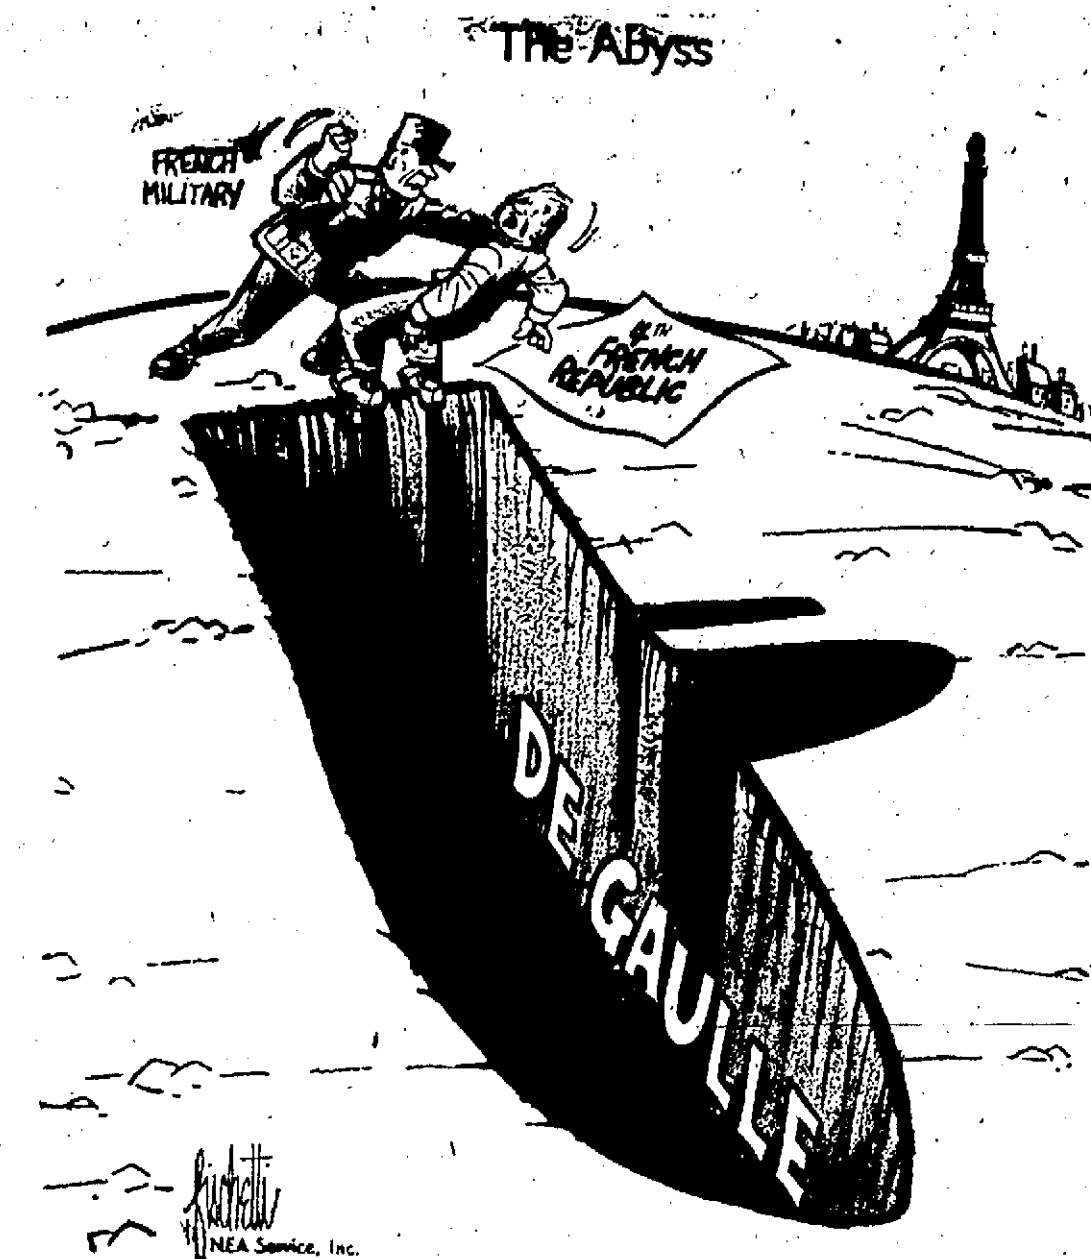

FOR THOSE WHO insist on imagining that Soviet communism can ever be less than total dictatorship, this reversion to the circumstances and attitudes of 1948 should afford illuminating instruction. As for Tito, by his swing through this cycle he has demonstrated that he is a firmly committed Communist who would like to be friendly with other Communist nations but simply will not knuckle under to them. Thus, despite all appearances of the last year or so, he is by the final test independent of subservience to the domineering Kremlin. Whether this entitles him to any new aid from the West, should he need it, is something we perhaps must debate carefully. In any event, it is welcome news to learn once more that Tito is not a Kremlin lackey who would do Moscow's bidding in time of crisis.

DEFINITION of fame: Being so well-known that you get your name in print, as Elizabeth Taylor did, for receiving one write-in vote in the Pennsylvania election.

Irresponsible

THE SENATE Internal Security subcommittee apparently thinks the friendship of Canada so assured as not to be worth bothering about. Its irresponsible actions certainly support that belief about its ideas. Last year the committee announced that E. H. Norman, Canadian ambassador to Egypt, was a former Communist. Three weeks later he committed suicide. The Canadian government felt, very properly, that any such charge against a Canadian official should be sent to them before being given out to the newspapers. The State Department apologized, and promised that it would not happen again. The same Senate subcommittee has termed Robert Bryce, secretary to the Canadian cabinet, a former Communist. This violated the agreement made by the government of the United States. Sidney L. Smith, Canada's secretary for external affairs, can be excused for calling Canadian confidence in our government "misplaced." In the Norman case, subcommittee members blamed their special counsel, who has since resigned. Since he was their employee, the responsibility was nevertheless theirs. The second breach of confidence underscores the point. It is a pity that at a time when the nation needs friends, publicity-seeking politicians have to put on an act which emphatically rubs Canadian fur the wrong way.

THE BIG TROUBLE with watching late TV is that the commercials come on so loud they wake you up.

Nixon Converting Brickbats To Laurels

WASHINGTON—The past week has seen Vice President Nixon skillfully converting his every South American brickbat into laurels. In this he has had the aid of the entire Administration, including President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles.

With a straight face, Dulles told his press conference that there was no need for basic changes in American foreign policy anywhere in the world. With great respect, it is impossible to believe that the same man built Sullivan and Cromwell into one of the greatest law shops in the United States with such counsel to his private clients.

The Washington Star has performed the public service of sending a reporter, William Hines, to Venezuela to spend five days in tranquility digging out the story behind the Nixon incident.

HINES' enthralling account has just begun. All officials of this government at least should memorize one key paragraph: "It can be stated categorically that if Vice President Nixon had been riding in an open car or if the mob had ripped open one of the Cadillac's doors—or if a Secret Service man had fired on the attackers—Mr. Nixon would be dead today." Mr. Nixon had ordered an open car to meet him at the Venezuelan airport but was persuaded not to use it.

Hines also states: "The real heroes of the Avenida Sucre were the men of Mr. Nixon's Secret Service guard. Playing their parts by ear in an unimaginably confused and dangerous situation, they were living examples of what Mr. Nixon meant when he said at his press conference a few hours later: 'It's harder on you to keep your temper than to lose it.'"

THE NEW YORK Times co-incidentally reports that in its present journey everywhere throughout South America, the New York Philharmonic Orchestra has been treated as "an emissary transcending strife . . . as an indelible bond between the countries visited and the United States."

It would seem crystal clear that our trouble is not our people but our politics and policies, which are not serving the ends this country seeks. In this election year it will not be easy to examine the question of why this is true and what can be done about it.

But there is no place, in this arena for the timid and the shirker, in politics or in the press. Beside it, the details of party politics shrink into insignificance.

THE VICE President now is talking a great deal of sense and generosity. He was supposed, all ways to be superlatively well-informed. Certainly now he himself at least knows how well informed he really was and the extent of his past illusions.

But he has not, does not now and cannot, as matters stand, make policy or execute it. He has never made policy and he has never had one hour's administrative responsibility.

THE PROBLEM, and all the politicians in Washington know it, is to get from the White House the leadership it alone can supply under the American system and which Congress, including its presiding officer, the Vice President, cannot. A finger of prime responsibility points here to the powerful influences which supported the President for a second term.

Atomic Power Plants Are Expensive

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Any ideas that small atomic power plants will dot the American landscape in the next 20 years can be forgotten. It will be 1990 or later before atomic reactors will be cooking competitively with conventional steam-powered electric plants.

This is shown by Atomic Energy Commission's first three approvals for small atomic power demonstration plants at Elk River, Minn., Piqua, Ohio, and Parr Shoals, S. C. Costs will run up to five times conventional steam plant costs.

Another project, testatively approved last year for Wolverine Electric Cooperative at Big Rapids, Mich., has been canceled completely as AEC considers it uneconomic.

Elk River and Piqua projects have been knocking around Washington for three years for re-study, redesign and renegotiation of contracts. The Parr Shoals project—most costly of the lot—was first submitted last September.

The only thing that makes these three projects possible is the new government subsidy program authorized by Congress last year to get development started.

ATOMIC Energy Commission can now pay all costs above what comparable conventional fuel power cost would be.

Thus, if steam power costs would be 10 mills per kilowatt, and atomic power costs are estimated at 25 mills. AEC is authorized to subsidize the full 15-mill difference.

Elk River's total costs are now estimated at 14.2 million dollars. This is nearly double first estimates of three years ago. Atomic power reactor and a conventional superheater to use its excess heat energy will cost 8.9 million. Research and development will be 2.8 million more.

The Elk River Rural Cooperative will kick in another 2.5 million for land and the turbo-generating plant. It will have a 22,000 kilowatt capacity.

Present estimates are that its electricity will cost them from 12 to 15 mills per kw. to produce. This compares with four to nine mill power in U.S. steam generating plants.

THIS WAS unsatisfactory to AEC, so the company bowed out. In the meantime, atomic power reactor technology advanced. The plant was redesigned for a new fuel, a combination of thorium and uranium oxide.

New bids were called for and the contract went to Nuclear Products—Ereco division of ACF Industries, Inc. The Elk River plant is now scheduled for completion by 1960. This will be five years after first approval of the project.

The Piqua plant is likewise a five-year project. Bids were called for in 1956. The 12,500 kw. plant is scheduled for completion by July, 1961, by Atomics International Division of North American Aviation.

Total costs are put at 16.3 million dollars, of which four million dollars will be generator costs borne by the City of Piqua. The 12.3 million cost of research and reactor development will be subsidized by the government.

AEC ENGINEERS won't estimate what Piqua power production costs will be, beyond saying they'll be higher than Elk River. Piqua will use enriched uranium for fuel and a new organic fluid moderator and coolant.

In the case of the Parr Shoals, S. C., plant, power costs may be four to five times as high as conventional power costs in this area which now run 7 to 17 mills per kw. They're high because of many old plants in service.

A combination of four private utilities operating as Carolinas Virginia Nuclear Power Associates will build this plant. Their costs will be 22 million dollars.

On top of this AEC will subsidize the heavy water reactor research and development to the tune of another 14.6 million dollars.

The 36 million total is tremendous for a 17,000 kw. plant. Stone and Webster and Westinghouse will be contractors. They expect to have the plant in operation by June, 1962—again five years after approval.

So They Say

FEDERATION ELECTS—Blanche P. White of Cumberland was elected president of the Maryland Federation Business and Professional Women's Clubs at the fourth annual meeting here. Julia Jackson, city, was named corresponding secretary.

YOUTHS VISIT CITY—Cumberland had its first real view of the Civilian Conservation Corps, or the Roosevelt "Forest Army," last night when nearly 100 members of the company encamped on Green Ridge, near Fifteen Mile Creek west of Hancock, came from their temporary "backwoods" domicile to this city for a few hours recreation and amusement.

Whitney Bolton
Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK—There was not enough space, the other day, fully to report the various gadgets and gimmicks available in New York these days. But I'm sure I had best rush to you as quickly as possible the breathless news that you no longer have to get down on your knees and grub around in the earth to raise flowers. You don't even have to break a fingernail or tamp dirt into pots.

They now have wall-to-wall flowers. Assuming, of course, that your stretch of ground has walls. If it hasn't, I'll change the slogan: they now have neighbor-to-neighbor gardens. They come in rolls, like carpeting.

THE ROLLS ARE 18 feet long and one foot wide and cost less than $4 per roll. They are pre-seeded and contain about 15 kinds of flowers. If you have that kind of money you can carpet your whole place with them. All you do is unwrap them, roll them out and then water them—and wait.

The seeds are imbedded in self-warming material of a kind mysterious to me but described as containing the best properties of organic acids, natural mulch and peat moss.

As far as I know, you could plant a roll in your living room or bedroom, but I think the floor would get damp and warp unless it is a concrete slab floor.

THE OTHER item being talked about is a sort of plastic steel which will do anything but let you fill your own teeth. Maybe you could fill your own teeth, for all I know. It plugs holes, imbeds screws, repairs furnaces and toys, resets tool handles and does a thousand other things.

A kit has two bottles. One is a gray, metallic-looking mess that is 80 per cent steel filings and 20 per cent something mysterious. The other bottle contains an amber fluid, which is the catalyst.

You mix the two, repair a crack in a fender or boiler, firm a chair rung or make a ladder safe, and then wait two hours. In 120 minutes that gooey item has hardened to steel toughness.

THE MAN WHO confided this little paste to me, a fellow I found staring into space at the Absinthe House, says that the three major auto companies use the stuff all the time to fill holes, conceal cracks, make molds, fixtures and Heaven knows what

Frederick Othman
Piggy? How About General?

WASHINGTON—Let's consider today the official pig inspector for the Air Force's major general and his artistic wife.

The general, you'll be glad to know, has been bawled out and probably never will get another promotion, and now let's get on with his pig. The facts came out in a report by investigators of the House Appropriations Committee, worrying about why it cost so much to keep the military living in suitable style.

This particular general, commanding the 13th Air Force at Clark Air Force Base, Philippine Islands, caused so much trouble with his pig that his subordinates called the problem Operations Razorback.

THE GENERAL (whose name mercifully has been suppressed) wanted to pitch a roast-pig barbecue, Filipino style, in his summer quarters at John Hay Air Force Base. The commander there bought a suitable pig from a Filipino farmer, but our hero and his friends couldn't eat it until it had been inspected by a veterinarian.

The Air Force vet at Clark was busy inspecting meat when he got word that he should fly to John Hay Base to inspect a special piece of meat, namely the general's pig. He protested that he had work to do.

He received word by phone that a special plane would leave Clark Field in 20 minutes for the general's barbecue in Baguio and that he'd be wise to be aboard. He was; so was an officer of the general's staff.

HE INSPECTED the pig in the mountains, found it suitable for the general's guests, and flew back to Clark the following day. The general, his Missus and their friends eat roast pig shortly before Easter, 1957.

This is the same general who had his quarters specially decorated with furnishings built in Japan and selected by an Air Force officer who'd had experience in civilian life as an interior decorator. When the general's wife saw samples of the upholstery, she said it didn't fit her color scheme.

The general radioed Tokyo to change the fabric, but it was too late. The job already had been done. The furniture, including a king-sized bedstead at $445, a sectional davenport at $380 and a curved divan at $220, arrived in the Philippines. The general's lady still didn't like it.

SO HE TOLD headquarters that he was taking her to Singapore to select some slipcover material. The management advised him that he'd have to pay for it, but the general wangled a deal whereby an official purchasing agent, who had other business in Singapore, bought the slipcovers. The general didn't have to pay.

He then decided that his summer quarters weren't quite comfortable enough. He ordered an electric blanket (it gets cool in the hills at night), a silver tea service, cigarette boxes to hold three different brands of king-size cigarettes, a cigar humidifier, mechanical clocks with gentle alarms for each bedroom, demitasse spoons, an electric drink mixer, a generously proportioned cocktail shaker, and some low flower dishes.

He said the only flower vases he had were peculiar things, mostly tall, and made of brass. He didn't like 'em.

THE GENERAL also ordered some extra large bath towels and said he'd like some face towels not much smaller. He said he needed some bath mats, enough so they could be changed daily, and an electric toaster.

He ordered three new bath-rooms at $2,600 each; the total cost of his furnishings do hux was $12,033. The Congressman said this wasn't much, as such things went, but that the extravagances of the general played hob with the morale of his underlings.

Now he's far from the Philippines, living a little more simply, and presumably feeling repentant. It'll be a long time before he roasts another certified pig.

else. He said he didn't own a penny of stock in the company or have any other financial interest in it.

"I just think it's amazing," he said, "I even put back together an iron trellis that had cracked when it fell and hit a concrete walk. And I'm no mechanic or artisan. I have trouble enough putting myself together every morning."

"Could it be sculpted into a new kind of art form?"

"Funny you asked that," he said. "It can. My wife can't cook but she leads the world in curiosity. She saw me working this stuff up into goo and said: 'I'll bet I could do a head with it.' And she did. When it hardened it looked fine."

THE THIRD item is a spray, which does not harm plants or flowers but which is warranted to keep stray dogs and similar blights away from your choicest flowers and shrubs. It is said to exude an odor undetectable by humans but offensive to dogs and cats.

I have not tried this item, any more than I have fixed that old chair rung at home with the plastic steel, but I will report because a neighbor of mine has a male Puli which considers all gardens except his owner's garden as fair game. He can devastate roses, ivy, grass and evergreen shrubs inside a week.

If I ever get within shooting distance of this animal I'm going to spray him with the stuff so that he becomes offensive even to other dogs. Right now, he is offensive only to humans. But I'll fix him. I'll make him the pariah of the canine neighborhood, sort of a Stinkin' Willie, the kid no one plays with. This may set up serious traumas in the dog and cause his owner to have to submit him as a patient to a dog psychiatrist, but I'll risk that.

YOU THINK I'm kidding about dog psychiatrists? We have three on Long Island. They think most dogs are neurotic, because humans have made them so. In any case, they do a thriving business. I don't know how they communicate with their patients, but evidently they do. One dog I know was a trying dog, irritating. He went to a dog psychiatrist for seven months, twice a week. Now he's impossible.

Just like people.

MEXICO CITY—Those little European cars are not hurting the sales of U. S. autos in Mexico.

You see lots of European models darting in and out of the increasingly heavy traffic, but the Fords, Chevrolets and Plymouths still dominate.

There are several reasons. All car imports are on a quota basis and American companies, which have long led Mexico's market, are holding to their percentages with government backing.

Mexicans like the flashy American car, the gaudier the better. Americans may complain of flair and fins, but Mexicans ask for more.

POWER AND driving range are important in a country where service stations are sometimes 100 miles apart and many major highways circle 10,000-foot mountains.

Also, the larger car is preferred by many who like to pack a family of 10 into the machine for a picnic or a trip. Thousands are converted into buses and taxis.

Mexico is one of Detroit's better foreign customers. In 1956 Mexico bought some 46,000 cars, trucks and buses.

For economic reasons the quota has been cut sharply. This year it stands at around 35,000 cars.

General Motors, Ford and Chrysler all have large assembly plants here. They get about three-fourths. Studebaker, Rambler and Packard account for much of the balance.

EUROPEAN MAKES trail. Fiat, assembled here in its new plant, probably accounts for five per cent. Volkswagen is next. Mexican dealers beg for more cars. "We could sell nine times as many as the quota allows," said a Ford representative.

But the government, to save its dollars, says no.

The duty amounts to around 110 per cent. Any of the lower-priced three, cost almost as much as a small Cadillac in the United States.

The official import total actually is deceptive. Mexico really buys more than 35,000 cars. One newspaper recently estimated that 45,000 more are brought in annually by individuals — through special privileges or by smuggling.

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON—This fellow Nixon is an iron man. I have encountered some durable citizens, but never one that could match the Vice President of the United States for invulnerability to violence, cajolery, drudgery, banquet hours, banquet food, boring introductions, impossible schedules, multiple jobs, and some of the most outworn gags in the history of the spoken word.

He must be subject to human frailties, but I've never seen the man look fatigued, and I've campaigned with him. I've crawled away after he had made six speeches in one night in as many different communities, with barely the strength left to push the doorknob to retract the point of my ball-point pen, and watched the Vice President sail by me as fresh, and full of beans, as when we started.

He can attend a meeting of the Cabinet, the National Security Council, preside over the Senate, pose for photographs all over the Capitol—he alone has almost worn a groove in the front steps—dictate his mountainous mail, prepare three major speeches, tape a couple of radio broadcasts and act for a TV short, without adding a wrinkle to either his forehead or his vest.

HE IS MATCHED for durability only by his wife. After a South American experience that would have retired most gentle ladies to a month of smelling salts, Pat Nixon not only accompanied her husband on most of his homecoming rounds, but took on a few extra of her own, including a jaunt to New Jersey for the keel-laying of the first commercial atomic ship.

The Vice President has demonstrated time and again that he can deliver a prepared speech, then throw himself open for questions, and talk—without a stumble or a syntactical detour—off the top of his head. Some day you ought to compare a Nixon Q. and A. transcript with that of another in the Executive Branch of Government.

The most hoary gag fails to faze the V.P. either. At a National Press Club setto the other day, this question was suddenly thrown at him from left field:

"Are you planning to run for a third term as Vice President?"

This query had just been passed up through the crowd, and Mr. Nixon barely had time to glance at it, much less study it. Nevertheless he riposted without hesitation:

"I can only say that we Republicans have always been against a third term."

HE IS IMPERVIOUS to chestnuts just as he is to rocks.

Nixon even knows how hard to laugh when a political foe is being lampooned. At a farewell luncheon for Maxwell M. Rabb, who is quitting as Secretary of the Cabinet because he has heard there is money in being a lawyer, Senator John F. Kennedy, of Massachusetts, eulogized Rabb's services to the underprivileged. Senator Clifford Case of New Jersey then accused Kennedy of inferentially aligning himself with the latter, adding fervently:

"Would that all of us could be so underprivileged!"

The Vice President laughed just hard enough to let the GOP Case know he appreciated the sally, but not hard enough to offend the Democratic Kennedy.

After the luncheon, Mr. Nixon not only posed with Rabb, but with Rabb's portrait; then with Rabb looking at Rabb's portrait; then with Rabb looking at Sherman Adams looking at Rabb's portrait, and finally with Rabb's portrait looking at Sherman Adams. How many iron men could endure such a grueling experience?

Richard M. Nixon is the man of the hour—but every hour.

Arrest Former University Official

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—A former administrative assistant at the University of Maryland in connection with a shortage of funds at the university. Det. Lt. Earl J. Huber of the Prince Georges County police said Elliott M. Elliott, 46, of near-Takoma Park was arrested last night and charged with three counts of forgery and two counts of grand larceny in shortages of $1,549.

Blair H. Smith, the county State's attorney, said Elliott was fired by the University in October, 1956 after a shortage was suspected. The money reportedly was taken between March 1954 and September 1956 and involved several funds handled by the University's agricultural office. Elliott worked in that office, Smith said. Elliott was released under $10,000 bond pending a preliminary hearing in Hyattsville June 6.

Smith met yesterday with university officials. Afterwards he said no further public comment would be made in order not to prejudice his case against the former school employee suspected of misappropriating the funds.

University officials have indicated they will prosecute and Smith said if his investigation results in criminal charges he would bring the case before the county grand jury next month.

A second shortage was reported at the pharmacy in University Hospital in Baltimore last Monday, only two days after the first shortage was made public.

The familiar V-shaped formation of migrating birds gives the rear birds an unobstructed view while their leader guides them through the air.

Like archery, falconry goes far back into antiquity. The Chinese appear to have practiced the sport 2,000 years ago.

Businessmen Planning Trip

BALTIMORE (AP)—A delegation of 50 Maryland businessmen will tour European ports next fall to seek business for the port of Baltimore.

The trip will be made between Labor Day and Oct. 19, when the Brussels fair ends. The committee will concentrate on foreign trade centers in Great Britain and ports of Northern Europe.

The sense of taste is made up of only four basic flavors—sweet, sour, salty and bitter. The many other tastes are combinations of these four.

Four Inmates Charged

HAGERSTOWN (AP)—State Police have charged four inmates of the Maryland Reformatory for Males with assault and battery for the beating of William G. Clark of Baltimore.

Clark, also an inmate, was savagely attacked at the institution last Saturday and has been unconscious in Washington County Hospital since then.

Trooper David Hasebubler said charges against the four teenagers would be changed to murder should Clark die.

The four inmates, all sentenced as members of a burglary gang in Baltimore, were transferred to an other institution, along with two others who witnessed the beating. Clark was sent to the reformatory for buying stolen property, but received a shortened term for cooperating with the police.

Dogs Must Be Fat And Tasty For Client

CASPER, Wyo. (AP)—Dog catcher Henry Schrader has an Indian client who really likes dogs. Once a month the man comes in and plunks down $2 to buy a dog. Age or breed seem to make no difference — as long as the dog is fat and tasty.

Dear Abby - - -

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I had a coffee table in my house and my sister-in-law admired it and admired it and admired it. I finally took the hint and gave it to her. Then she turned around and sold it to her sister. I don't care about the few dollars, but I think this was a cheap trick. I want to buy it back from her sister, but my husband says to forget the whole thing. Should I?

DEAR BOILING: Your sister-in-law used extremely poor judgment. If I were you I would forget it and charge it to experience.

DEAR ABBY: The man who thinks he gives his teen-ager son an allowance that is "more than plenty" sounds just like my father. Some fathers forget that times have changed since they were teen-agers. If a boy wants to take a girl to the movie and buy her a hamburger and a malt afterwards, he can't do it on fifty cents like his old man did. Will you please remind my father and the fathers of other teen-aged boys that the cost of living has gone up.

DEAR LIVING: The father who is paying the grocer, the butcher, the dentist, the doctor, the insurance man and the tax people doesn't need me to remind him that the cost of living has gone up.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is a young woman who works for my husband. She is 26 years old and has already been through two husbands. She drives her own car to work all right, but my husband has to follow her home in his car after work to be sure she gets home safely. She invites him in for a cup of tea (he has ulcers so I don't have to worry about it being anything else) afterwards. Sometimes it is seven-thirty before he gets home for dinner. Do I have to put up with this?

PATIENT WIFE
DEAR PATIENT: You don't have to. So why do you?

DEAR ABBY: I came across an old Japanese magazine and it says that you should take some salt (about one tablespoon) wet it a little and rub it where you want to reduce. Some people might think it is a joke, but my stomach was coming out for a long time and now it is getting smaller.

DEAR K. F. J.: I don't see how this could possibly work. Unless, of course, you rub the salt on your stomach instead of eating desserts.

Confidential to Concerned Granny: A watched pot never boils... but a "watched relative" does! Your "little boy" is 36 and is no longer your problem.

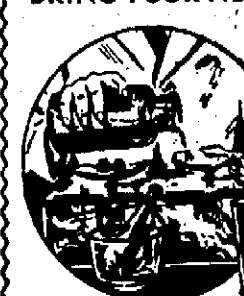

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

After much research a product is on the market that cleans and fluffs up beat down carpet paths plus removal of spots thereby maintaining the new look. The textile engineer of a large carpet mill says — "It's the best we've found."

The product is Blue Lustre. It is easily applied with a long handle brush. One half gallon of Blue Lustre concentrate cleans three 9 x 12 rugs.

Blue Cross Rate Ruling Being Studied

Final Decision Not To Be Made Before End Of June

BALTIMORE (AP)—A final decision on a requested 22.3 per cent increase in Blue Cross rates probably will not be made before the end of June.

State Insurance Commissioner Charles S. Jackson made this statement as six days of hearings on the rate proposal ended yesterday.

Jackson gave lawyers in the case two weeks to submit written arguments.

At the close of the hearings, Baltimore attorney Hyman Pressman, representing some 1,000 Maryland Blue Cross subscribers, charged he was not given a fair chance of presenting the case against the increase.

Pressman accused E. Clinton Bamberger Jr., assistant attorney general and counsel to the State Insurance Department, of favoring Blue Cross during the hearing.

Pressman spent considerable time yesterday cross examining Reginald H. Dabney, executive secretary of the Blue Cross plan. Dabney said the requested rate increase would be followed by more if hospital costs continue to soar.

"The public must realize that health insurance will take a larger share of the family budget," Dabney said.

In answer to a question from Pressman, Dabney said Maryland rates are higher than New York's because Maryland residents receive more benefits—such as medical care for a child from birth.

Then he will return to Fort Hood for eight weeks of "advanced individual training as an armor crewman" with the Second Armored Division.

Auto Tag Sale Slow

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia license plates are selling at a slower rate than they did last year.

Hubert A. Kelly, commissioner of motor vehicles, said that only 123,000 1958-59 plates have been sold of the estimated 650,000 required for cars in the state.

On May 25 of last year sales had reached 136,000.

Kelly urged car owners to get their applications in early. He warned that there will be no extension of the license-buying period, to end in five weeks.

GET ON THE VODKA WAGON-WITH SMIRNOFF

Did you ever wish you could vary your drinks—

without mixing your liquors? Smirnoff lets you do exactly that, as many wise people have discovered. Starting with cocktails—

then turning to other and taller Smirnoff drinks after dinner—

you can stay with smooth, flawless Smirnoff all evening long.

Here are just a few suggestions:

VODKA HIGHBALL. Use ginger ale—or any other mixer. You'll find smooth Smirnoff blends completely with just about anything potable that pours!

VODKA MARTINI. For the world's subtlest, driest Dry Martini—use your usual martini proportions but mix with Smirnoff instead of gin!

SCREWDRIVER. Pour a jigger of Smirnoff over ice. Fill up glass with fresh orange juice, and stir. Delicious as a cocktail. Refreshing after dinner.

VODKA COLLINS. Add a jigger of Smirnoff to juice of 1 lemon, 1 tsp. sugar, plenty of cracked ice. Fill up with soda, and stir.

State Plans Defense Of Anti-Slot Law

Court Order Filed Claims Statute Unconstitutional

BALTIMORE (AP) — Maryland legal officials moved today to combat a court order aimed at preventing two Southern Maryland sheriffs from enforcing a State anti-slot machine law.

Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert said his office will prepare a formal answer to a suit filed in St. Mary's County as soon as possible before the June 17 deadline.

The law enacted by the 1958 General Assembly bans legal operation of slot machines unless they are accessible by foot from Maryland soil. The statute was aimed at revoking slot machine licenses for piers on the Virginia side of the Maryland-owned Potomac River.

Early Hearing Seen
Sybert indicated the State will ask for an early hearing and seek dissolution of the restraining order handed down by Judge Philip H. Dorsey in St. Mary's County Circuit Court.

The order aimed at preventing Sheriff Robert Miedziński of St. Mary's County and Avery C. Monroe of Charles County from enforcing the state law is effective June 1.

Sybert yesterday received a copy of the civil suit filed by operators of seven slot machine piers and one vessel off the Virginia shore opposite the two Southern Maryland counties.

The attorney general said that under law the State is required to defend any State officer named defendant in a civil suit.

Licenses Issued
In his injunction, Judge Dorsey gave the two sheriffs permission to file a demurrer providing they give the pier operators 10 days notice before a hearing.

Both sheriffs have issued slot machine and whisky drinking licenses under their local option to the establishments across the river.

The pier operators, who renewed their annual licenses May 1 despite the new State law, charge it violated both the State and federal constitutions.

They contended in their suit that the law constituted "local legislation" since it was aimed only at the licensing authority of the two counties. The 1958 session of the General Assembly was limited by the constitution to matters of statewide and emergency status.

The operators also attacked the statute's language as ambiguous and inconsistent.

The Strait of Messina, between Italy and Sicily, froths into whirlpools as tides push back and forth.

Missing Coed Located On Homebound Train

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — An 18-year-old St. John's College coed reported missing since late Monday was located today on a train enroute to her home in Texas.

St. John's officials received a telegram from Dr. Joseph J. Jones, English professor at the University of Texas, that his daughter Judith Ann, was safe. He said she was on a Missouri-Pacific train bound for Austin.

College authorities became concerned after she failed to return to her dormitory by 1 a.m. closing hour Tuesday morning. They reported her disappearance to police who ascertained that she had probably boarded a 6:15 p.m. bus to Baltimore, but had no trace of her after that.

She left clothes and other possessions in her room at the college.

A 19-year-old brother, David, also is a student at St. John's.

College officials had no explanation for her disappearance and presume she left the college on an impulse.

Dionne Quints, 24 Years Old

MONTREAL (AP) — The four surviving Dionne quintuplets are 24 today but any plans for birthday celebrations are their secret.

The girls — Annette, Cecile, Yvonne and Marie — all live in the Montreal area. But efforts to reach them or persons close to them for information about their birthday plans have met with no success.

This is the girls' fourth birthday without Emilie, frailest of the five, who died Aug. 6, 1954, during the birth.

Contractors Speed Up Work On Flood Project

Contractors on the Wills Creek phase of the flood protection project have speeded up work this week.

Crews numbering about 150 last week have been increased to about 225 to speed the final work on the $18,000,000 project.

The George F. Hazelwood Construction Company, working in the constricted area near the Baltimore Street Bridge, has put three shifts to work to make the best use of the weather and low water.

Upstream, the E. J. Albrecht Company is working its crews on ten-hour days and on Saturdays to speed work on paving the sides and bed of Wills Creek.

Hazelwood crews are at work on the center pier of the new Western Maryland Railway Bridge across Wills Creek. The pier will be 276 feet long and is designed so it will support both tracks of the railway.

The pier will be poured in seven sections and, with its foundation, will require over 2,000 yards of concrete.

Workers are placing reinforcing steel for the concrete slab which will form the west approach of the Baltimore Street Bridge.

Western Maryland crews are preparing to lay a portion of the eastbound tracks at the crossing, but the westbound tracks, now used as a bypass route for the temporary railway bridge, cannot be put back until the new railway bridge is open.

This, officials said, means that the bridge may not be opened until the temporary railway span comes down and could delay the opening of the traffic bridge until mid August or early September.

The viaduct pumping station, last of three units needed, is nearing completion.

Work on the building is completed and the powerful machinery which will pump storm water over the flood walls during high water is being set in place.

Annual Girl Scout Camp Dates Set

The second year of camping at the Girl Scout established camp near Flintstone will begin Sunday, June 29, and continue through Friday, August 1.

According to Miss Olive Hurlburt, scout executive, the first period will be a 12-day session, extending from June 29 to July 11. The second period, a seven-day session will extend from July 13 to July 19. The final period will be from July 20 to August 1, and will be for 12 days of camping.

During the second 12-day period at camp this summer, one unit will be devoted to special training for senior Scouts who are interested in qualifying for the National Girl Scout Roundup and for girls interested in the first year of the Counselor-in-Training program.

Because of the large number of intermediate Scouts in the council at this time, Miss Hurlburt noted, no unit will be reserved for Brownie Scouts. The youngest campers at established camp will be those flying-up from Brownie Scout troops who will be entering fifth grade in school next September.

There will be units for Brownies, however, at both the day camps as well as units for intermediate Scouts. Senior Scouts will be given an opportunity to attend day camp as program aides.

Day camp for Cumberland will be held at Constitution Park June 16-20 and June 23-27. Registrations are being accepted for one or two weeks. The form from the camp folder should be sent or taken to the Girl Scout House by May 28.

The Frostburg day camp will be held in the Community Pool area at Frostburg, July 21-25 from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Registration forms, also included in the camp folder, should be given the troop leader by June 10.

Camp folders have been distributed to all of the Cumberland Council's 64 troops, and contain information about established camp as well as the two-day camps.

Council members responsible for the Girl Scout camping activities include Mrs. Karl G. Perry, general chairman; Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, chairman of established camp, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Bobo, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cioni, Thomas Elias, Mr. and Mrs. Aden Everstine, Mrs. Patrick Hogan, Miss Irene Lapp, Mr. and Mrs. Karl G. Perry and Joseph C. Mooney. Mrs. William D. Claus is chairman for the Cumberland Day Camp, assisted by Mrs. E. T. Beachley, Mrs. Edward Milbrada, and Mrs. William P. Lawrence.

Mrs. C. Gordon Taylor is chairman of Frostburg Day Camp, assisted by Mrs. G. Alvin Krelling, Mrs. Fred Morton and Mrs. Clyde Settle.

The troop camp committee includes Mrs. Aden Everstine, chairman, and Miss Pauline Fisher.

Hero Relives His Most Trying Hours

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—This week Joe Clemons will start re-living the 24 most violent hours of his life.

It will take two months for movie makers to tell the story of the brief time Clemons and his outfit spent on that bitter mound of earth called Pork Chop Hill.

The time was April 1953 and the place was Korea. The prize was a hill that got its name from somebody who noted that it looked like a pork chop on the topographical map. The Americans and the Communists fought bitterly over the ground, yet it was not unlike many other such encounters in Korea.

But it caught the attention of the world.

"Perhaps it was because the peace talks were then going on just 60 miles away," Joe Clemons suggested.

Whatever the reason, the battle is now being filmed as "Pork Chop Hill" by Gregory Peck's own company. Peck is playing Joe, and there is a certain resemblance, though the actor is taller. Mrs. Clemons is also here to witness the battle, but she won't be portrayed in the picture. Of the 83 speaking parts, all are male.

Capt. Clemons, a West Pointer who calls Baltimore home, is often called on to advise on aspects of the film. He helped scout the outdoor location in the San Fernando Valley hills, which he said looked amazingly like Korea.

"We're trying to make the picture as technically correct as possible," he said. "I'm told that before World War II, it didn't matter so much whether war pictures were true to life. But now, since so many men have been in combat themselves, you run the risk of being laughed at if the picture doesn't seem real."

I asked him what combat veterans find to criticize in war films.

"It's pretty laughable when a single hand grenade blows up a whole house," he remarked. "Or when you see a machine-gun blast that either mows down everyone in sight or spares them all. Then you often see errors in uniforms—maybe an officer in his dress uniform with his combat gear strapped over it."

I SINCERELY THANK YOU FOR YOUR SUPPORT IN THE MAY 20th PRIMARY AND RESPECTFULLY SOLICIT YOUR CONTINUED SUPPORT IN NOVEMBER.

Former Officials Seek Probation

ST. LOUIS (AP) — T. Lamar Caudle and Matthew J. Connelly, former Truman administration officials, have asked for probation or reduction of their prison sentences.

Both were convicted in June 1956 by a U.S. District Court jury for conspiracy in an income tax case. They were sentenced to two years in prison and fined $2,500 each.

The U.S. Supreme Court last week refused for the second time to act on their appeals.

Stitcher Field Work Outlined

Fencing and a backstop will be erected at Stitcher Field today. The work area was staked off yesterday by the Recreation Department's maintenance staff.

To be erected are 32 feet of four-foot fence, from the dugout on the first base side to stop balls and keep vehicles off the field. Another 172 feet of six-foot fence will be installed along the right field line to stop foul balls and to provide a safe parking area for cars, eliminating parking on the street.

The backstop will include three 16-by-16-foot sections, with 24-foot wings on either side to protect spectators.

Bidding Key To Champion Play

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Here is another Intercollegiate Championship hand.

South's first problem occurs at his second turn to bid. He only has 13 high card points but his singleton diamond should look good to him and he should attempt to get to game. Furthermore, he should do so by bidding three hearts, not three spades.

In that case North should raise the hearts to four and South should play the hand in that suit and not in spades.

With hearts as trump, South ruffs the second diamond, and plays the king of hearts. East's best defense is to let it hold. South continues with the queen whereupon East should win and lead a third heart. Now South wins this and runs out all his spades, discarding the jack of diamonds and six of clubs from dummy. His next play is a club and all he can lose will be one club trick.

With spades as trumps there is no play for more than nine tricks unless West helps declarer out by jumping up with his ace of clubs when South leads the suit. The extra trick at hearts was produced since South was able to ruff one diamond in his own hand and still keep four trumps in dummy.

Lutherans Study Camp Site Program

Ordination Tonight
High Point In State
Synod Gathering

A resolution calling for the development of the camp of the Maryland Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church was placed before the synod's 139th annual convention this morning in St. John's Lutheran Church.

The resolution will be voted upon later today. It calls for an increase in the per capita contribution to provide the funds necessary to development of the camp.

The property at Doubts in Frederick County has been purchased, but not developed. Synod spokesman said today only $25,000 of a necessary $150,000 has been raised.

Ordination Tonight

Before being passed to the convention delegates for a vote, the matter was to be studied by the executive committee.

The high point of this evening's program will be the ordination of 11 men, with two local men and two others with local connections being in the group.

They are Albert L. Weber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Weber, 560 Oldtown Road; W. Ronald Fear, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Harold Fear, 1000 Bedford Street; Donald Brake, son of Rev. and Mrs. Donald Brake, Washington, formerly of here, and Robert Huddle, assistant pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church.

Rev. Mr. Brake, who served as pastor of St. John's Church from 1946 to 1952, will preach the ordination sermon during the ceremonies for his son and the other three men.

Delegates Elected

Yesterday saw the election of delegates to the United Lutheran Convention in October in Dayton, Ohio. Among them are Rev. Russell E. Fink, pastor of St. John's Church, and Albert Hook, a member of St. John's.

The other delegates to the convention include Rev. Paul H. Smith, Rev. Robert VanDeusen, Rev. Carl Folkemer, Rev. Raymond Shaheen, Rev. Carl Rasmussen, Rev. Glenn Stahl, Rev. Charles Trunk, Rev. Raymond Miller, Austin P. Rynn, John L. Shaw, Merwyn Fuss, Paul I. Folkemer, Alfred Rasch, William Vingling, Robert Carter and Lindsey Schmidt.

Rev. Mr. Fink and Earl E. Manges, of St. Paul's Church, were named to the parish education committee for three-year terms along with Rev. C. Philip Seltzer of Washington. Last night Rev. Roland Ricks, Baltimore, was installed as full-time director of parish education of the Maryland Synod.

Yesterday's balloting also resulted in the election of Rev. Frederick Seibel, Baltimore, as statistician.

A report by the mission committee of the synod yesterday afternoon indicated that the LaVale area will be surveyed this summer as a possible church site.

Rev. J. Leon Haines, director of mission stewardship and evangelism, who will conduct the survey, told the synod that the local area is one of four sections that will be surveyed this summer.

Two new Lutheran congregations that were organized during the past six months were officially received into membership of the Maryland Lutheran Synod last night.

They were St. John's Church, Rockville, Rev. Clifford Miller, pastor, and Christus Victor Church, Baltimore County, Rev. Paul Manrodt, pastor.

Mineral Man Loses Case In High Court

William E. Kuhn
Claims His Period
Of Confinement Long

CHARLESTON (AP) — A State Supreme Court opinion has rejected the contention of a State Penitentiary prisoner sentenced from Mineral County that he was illegally confined for a maximum of 30 years.

The appellate court unanimously rejected yesterday the claim of William E. Kuhn.

Kuhn pleaded guilty in 1956 to four indictments, which included two charges of forgery and two other charges of passing bad checks. He was sentenced to two to 10 years on each of the forgery charges and one to five years on each of the bad check indictments. The sentences were suspended, however, and Kuhn was placed on probation.

He was taken into court last year for violation of probation. His probation in each case was revoked and the circuit court ordered the original sentences to be executed and specified that they should run consecutively.

Kuhn maintained in his petition to the Supreme Court for a writ of habeas corpus that the sentences were illegally increased and that he was placed in double jeopardy in violation of the constitution. He contended the sentences originally were intended to run concurrently.

Judge H. L. Ducker wrote the unanimous Supreme Court opinion which said:

"Whatever may have been the intention of the trial judge, with respect to the sentences of Oct. 20, 1956, or any recollection as to what was done, the fact remains there is no language in the orders of Oct. 19, 1956, indicating these sentences were to run concurrently."

The opinion maintained that a "court of record can speak only by their records."

Board Gets Road Book

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners received a letter from Robert O. Bonnell, chairman of the State Roads Commission, outlining the highway program in Maryland.

Under separate cover he also sent a copy of "State High Study Including Sufficient Ratings."

Bonnell said that copies of the Green Book (revised) covering all counties were recently made available to all members of the General Assembly. Bonnell said the Green Book will be much more convenient than the heavy complete report.

The county commissioners will be able to review and discuss the highway situation in the county by use of the Green Book.

Bonnell said that there are no additional funds to implement projects recommended and which were not in the original 12-year road program.

"At the moment we must follow the 12-year program unless substitution of Green Book projects can be made for mileage and money. It is the commission's policy to clear suggested substitutions with county authorities," Bonnell declared.

Settlement Made In Damage Suit

Settlement of a $5,000 damage suit was noted in Circuit Court yesterday with the filing of papers in the case.

The suit was brought by Ronald Jay Summerfield, through his mother, Mrs. Georgia Carol Summerfield, against John Hughes Purdy Jr.

The declaration, filed by Donald W. Mason, attorney for the plaintiff, states that Purdy was operating his car at a high rate of speed last October 11 when he struck the Summerfield boy about one mile north of Rawlings on U.S. Route 220.

The boy suffered a fractured leg, a concussion and lacerations and abrasions. The settlement in the case was for $1,500.

Beauty Spot Would Honor Garden Head

Memorial Planned
For Late Mrs. Miller,
Area Club Leader

Creation of an outdoor beauty spot in the form of a bird and wild life sanctuary as a memorial to the late Mrs. Gilbert Miller is proposed by a committee that had its inception with members of the Garden Club and Wild Life Federation.

Recently retired chief judge George Henderson has accepted the chairmanship of the fund raising committee and Charles A. Piper, president of the Liberty Trust Co., is treasurer.

"Mrs. Miller's wide range of activities in spreading greater appreciation of the beauties of nature was cut short by her sudden death March 27. Hundreds who worked with her, fired by her compelling enthusiasm for creating a love of bird life, trees, flowers and community beautification, feel that such a memorial to her will be a source of pleasure and profit to future generations."

"There will be no drive for funds and no solicitation," explained Piper. "It is felt that organizations and individuals who know of her great accomplishments in community betterment will voluntarily contribute to this worthy project."

Mrs. Miller was president of the Bird Club for years and was a board member of the Audubon Club of Maryland; she was a founder and first president of the Garden Club; she directed the Nature Camp for the Junior Bird Club, spending two weeks every summer living at the camp with a hundred or more children; was chairman of water safety for the Red Cross and directed spectacular water ballets in which scores of teenage girls participated, and was for some time president of the Cumberland Branch of the AAUW.

Rudolph Steinberger is vice chairman of the group which will be known as the Helen Miller Memorial Fund Committee. Mrs. R. W. Phillips is secretary.

A 30-member executive board will be named before June 1.

Court Orders Suit Removed

A damage suit scheduled for yesterday in Circuit Court here has been removed to Baltimore City for trial.

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris signed an order transferring the suit brought by Philip Christ, administrator of the estate of Mrs. Patricia Trenton, his daughter, against Raymond Wempe, city.

Wempe drove the car in which Mrs. Trenton was fatally injured about a year ago on U. S. Route 219 near the road's intersection with U. S. Route 40 at Keyser Ridge. The defendant and Mrs. Trenton's daughter, Cynthia, were injured in the crash.

Court attaches here said it is the first time they remember a case being sent from here to Baltimore City for trial. Usually, the cases are removed to Garrett, Washington and Frederick counties. Two of the attorneys in the case are from Baltimore City and this had something to do with the transfer there, it was reported.

Concrete Being Poured For Bridge Approach

Concrete for the west approach of the new Baltimore Street bridge across Wills Creek was being poured today.

The George F. Hazelwood Company has been working on the bridge for some months. The main section across the stream has been completed for some time. After the west approach is completed then the eastern end will be finished.

EMPLOYMENT ROUTINE—The local office of the Maryland Department of Employment Security has been busy in recent weeks interviewing and classifying high school and college students who are seeking summer employment. Francis E. Kenney, manager of the local DES office, said nearly 900 of the approximately 1,100 members of graduating classes in Allegany County high schools have been given general aptitude tests that will be of assistance in placing them in the most suitable positions.

Bloodmobile To Visit Area Next Monday

Announcing that the Johnstown Bloodmobile will be at the Eagles Home, North Mechanic Street, Monday from noon till 6 p. m., officials of the Red Cross, a County United Fund agency, again today stressed the importance of meeting monthly blood quotas here.

Cumberland is one of the communities in the Johnstown Region, which, through failure to meet monthly quotas, has brought about a curtailment in blood service affecting the needs of local residents in out-of-region hospitals.

Garrett County and Piedmont Chapters of the Red Cross are still qualified under the new Johnstown policy for the replacement of blood when it is required out of the region.

"With more people traveling during the summer months," said a Red Cross spokesman said today, "requests for blood come from all over the country. Sick and accidents don't go on vacations. They travel right with you. But it will no longer be possible to take care of out-of-area requests for blood unless monthly quotas are met, or unless people deposit blood in the local blood bank as an insurance against their needs while traveling."

The bloodmobile will be at the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant at North Branch Tuesday from noon till 6 p. m. A large number of donors have already been scheduled there.

Church To Hold Summer School

Pinto Mennonite Church will hold its annual summer Bible School June 9-20, with classes scheduled for 7 to 9 p. m. daily at the church.

Paul Livengood will serve as superintendent of the school, while Mrs. Harold Ours will be music director.

The school will feature a nursery class and an adult class, Livengood said.

"Jobs For Youth" Campaign Gets Underway In County

The Maryland Department of Employment Security has adopted a "Jobs for Youth" campaign, according to Francis E. Kenney, manager of the local DES office.

Employers throughout the state have been advised that hundreds of high school and college students have begun contacting DES offices seeking summer employment.

In anticipation of the demand for employment, Kenney said personnel of his office conducted interviews with interested members of this year's graduating classes in Allegany County high schools.

Nearly 900 of the approximately 1,100 seniors were given the DES general aptitude test, Kenney stated; while the department's shorthand and typewriting proficiency test was administered to 186 seniors who were completing commercial courses in the county's high schools.

The majority of the high school and college students seek temporary jobs in the hope of furthering their education, Kenney explained, although some are looking for their first permanent positions.

The local office placed a large number of high school and college students in temporary jobs last year, the DES office manager pointed out. For persons interested in utilizing the services offered, they can either report to the North Mechanic Street office or contact its personnel at PA 2-1930.

In explaining the "Jobs for Youth" program, Kenney said "while there currently is a surplus of workers over jobs, many employers, for a variety of reasons, intend to hire some of these youngsters this year. The employer who plans to do this would do well to list his available openings with the nearest Employment Security office."

"From the knowledge we have gained of these applicants as individuals, we can select those who seem most able to meet the requirements of the job, and then arrange for an interview with the employer. The final decision to hire or not to hire remains with the employer."

AWOL Nabbed In Traffic Mishap

A former Cumberland resident was held for military authorities after being involved in a highway accident Saturday night near Wiley Ford.

Charged with being AWOL from the Army was Robert K. Redman, 25, whom police said had been absent without leave since February 15. He was also charged with failing to give a hand signal, having no operator's license and improper registration.

West Virginia State Police said Redman was driving north on Route 28 and was struck from the rear when he turned into Old Furnace Road.

The driver of the other car, Charles L. Gearhart, 17, of this city, was charged with hazardous driving. He suffered a facial laceration in the accident, and a passenger of his, Raymond Cook, 19, of Cresapton, also was slightly injured.

Resolution Date Passes

The petition deadline for Charter Amendment Resolution No. 6—to allow use of voting machines in next month's municipal elections, has passed, City Clerk Walcott and Council Monday Effective and Council today. Effective date of the amendment is June 2, the day before the primary.

White Makes Speaker Bid To Delegates

Top Senate Post
Also Open In State
General Assembly

SALISBURY (AP) — E. Homer White Jr. of Salisbury started openly today the anticipated scramble for Speaker of the House of Delegates in 1959.

The veteran delegate made the first move by writing all Democratic nominees to the House in the May 20 primary. He asked them—if elected in November—to withhold any commitments for Speaker until he has a chance to present his case.

The majority party in each house of the legislature elects the presiding officer.

Luber Defeated

For the past eight years, John C. Luber from Baltimore's Fifth District has been speaker. His selection had been due in a large part to solid backing of the 25 Democratic delegates from the nine counties on the Eastern Shore.

Luber was apparently defeated for reelection as a delegate from his district in the primary. However, even if the official canvass returns him to the House, there had been widespread feeling it was time for a change in the Speaker's chair.

While in being the first to publicly disclose his candidacy will make his pitch for endorsement by the Eastern Shore bloc on the basis of being its senior member.

He presumably will be elected to his fourth term in the House in November. His county of Wicomico also is the largest on the shore from a voting standpoint with 11,873 registered Democrats.

Leader Of Ticket

White led the legislative ticket in the 1954 general election and also in this month's primary with more than 3,800 votes.

He has been chairman of the House Agricultural and Natural Resources Committee and of the Democratic caucus. During the February session he was prominent in the resistance movement to increasing the sales tax.

In becoming a candidate for Speaker, White is expected to run head-on into a contest with Del. Perry O. Wilkinson of Prince Georges.

White, a longtime personal friend of Wilkinson, supported the Prince Georges delegate in a try for the speakership in 1954. Only a caucus rule binding all Eastern Shore Democrats to a vote of the majority prevented Wilkinson from defeating Luber.

New Deal In Senate

Wilkinson, like White, was born in Wicomico County. He has been a delegate since 1942.

Wilkinson was backed by Southern Maryland county delegates in his pass for Speaker four years ago. They thought they had a deal arranged with the Eastern Shore legislators to elect him Speaker and in turn make Laymon Redden of Caroline County President of the Senate.

When the Eastern Shore delegates went for Luber, the Southern Maryland Senators switched and put Louis Goldstein of Calvert in as President.

Goldstein quitted the Senate to run for Comptroller and Redden was defeated for re-nomination last week. So an entirely new deal for the Senate presidency is due.

Judge Orders Attorney Out Of Jury Room

KEYSER—The re-indictment of six area youths for dragging a Westernport man along the street in Piedmont with an automobile at a special session of the grand jury in Mineral County Circuit Court Monday was highlighted by two other incidents.

Judge Ernest A. See ordered Prosecuting Attorney Donald C. Holt out of the grand jury room, and one of the youths indicted was arrested Monday night for reckless driving and for wrecking an automobile on New Creek Drive.

Judge See and the prosecutor had heated words over the latter's ejection from the grand jury session when the judge learned Holt had been in the jury room most of the morning interrogating witnesses.

Attorney Vernon E. Rankin had been appointed special prosecutor in the case earlier in the court term when Prosecutor Holt asked to be relieved because "the court and I apparently differ on how the case should be handled."

Judge See told Holt that he "didn't have any business" in the jury room or interrogating witnesses in this particular case because Rankin had been appointed to handle it. Judge See prepared an order specifically relieving Holt of any connection with the case.

Fred Linaburg, one of the six indicted yesterday, was arrested by City Patrolman Delbert Miller on a charge of reckless driving on South Main Street. The youth posted a $50 bond which was forfeited when he did not appear in Police Court yesterday.

State Police Cpl. Evan Moody said that a short time later Linaburg crashed the 1957 Plymouth of his mother, Mrs. Madeline Linaburg, near the Blue Jay. Linaburg was not injured, nor was an unidentified passenger with him, but damage to the car was estimated at more than $1,000.

Moody said the accident was still under investigation, and that other charges may be preferred later.

Indicted for felonious assault along with Linaburg were Gary Burgess, Keith Maine, Linwood Thorne, Francis Zacot and Bryan Wotring.

Only the final event of the Triple Crown—the Belmont Stakes on June 7—remains to be decided and then the spotlight will turn on the turf's older horses, the handicappers, who have a triple event of their own to decide.

On the West Coast Round Table had, until beaten by the light-weight Seaneen in the California Stakes last Saturday, dominated the handicap division. Oddly enough the last defeat for Round Table in California had also been in the California Stakes at Hollywood in 1957.

In the East the rivals for the 1957-3-year-old championship are scheduled to meet again in the Carter Handicap Friday with Bold Ruler top-weight under a flattering assignment of 135 pounds and Gallant Man, assigned 128 pounds for his 1958 debut.

This running of the Carter could mark the beginning of a three-race contest for the American Championship and the TRA award for 1958.

For a number of years the Metropolitan Handicap and the Suburban Handicap at Belmont, and the Brooklyn Handicap at Aqueduct have been the events usually used as the yardstick for older horses. Steeped in tradition, only two horses, Whisk Broom II in 1913, and Tom Fool in 1953, have been stout enough to win all three in the same year.

With the transfer of Aqueduct's racing dates to Belmont, while construction of the new Aqueduct is in progress, a re-evaluation of the stakes schedule points up a new series better suited to show a horse's versatility. Starting with the Carter Handicap at seven furlongs, graduating to the mile of the Metropolitan June 14, and climaxing with the mile-and-a-quarter Suburban on July 4. With this series a horse would have to show sprinting ability, be able to handle the middle distance and cope with a long distance, all under handicap conditions.

The Carter, a race that dates back to 1895, and is now the richest sprint in the world for older horses with $50,000 added, has been won by some of the greatest in the history of the sport. Names like Belvedere, Roeben, Roamer, Old Redoubt, Sarazen, Osmond, Devil Diver, Gallotette and Tom Fool are included on the winner's list. The race won international fame in 1944 when Bossuet, Wait A Bit and Brownie finished in a triple deadheat, the first in stakes competition.

The Metropolitan, inaugurated in 1891, is also worth $50,000, and its roster of winners include the blue-bloods of the turf, Sysonby, Whisk Broom II, Mad Hatter, Grey Lag, Sarazen, Equipoise, Snark, Devil Diver (the only three-time winner), Symie, Tom Fool, Native Dancer and High Gun are but a few of the victors.

The series will come to an end with the running of the $75,000 added Suburban, a classic dating back to 1881. Salvador, Henry of Navarre, Ben Brush, Imp, Belvedere, Whisk Broom II, Grey Lag, Crusader, Equipoise, Eight Thrity, Market Wise, Devil Diver, Armed, Assault, Tom Fool and Nashua grace its winner's list.

A check of the records by the Thoroughbred Racing Association shows that Tom Fool was the only horse to win all three in the same year, tossing in the Brooklyn as an extra-added attraction.

Braves Nip Cards But Lose World Series Flag

Flag Stolen While Fans Cheer Pinch Circuit Belt

By United Press International
Some scoundrel walked right up and stole Milwaukee's 1957 world championship flag last night but the embarrassed Braves are making it quite clear no one is going to steal the 1958 pennant from them.

The theft of the Braves' flag was noticed shortly after Joe Adcock's two-run pinch homer in the ninth inning gave the world champs a 3-2 victory over the Cardinals and boosted them within a game of first place.

Whoever took the pennant loosened the rope attaching it to the pole in left field, calmly lowered baseball's cherished banner of supremacy and fled into the night.

Cardinals Robbed, Too
But if the Braves thought they were robbed, how do you think the Cardinals felt?

Sam Jones of the Cards was coasting along with a two-bit, 2-0 lead until the ninth when Eddie Mathews opened with a single and Wes Covington was hit with a pinch. Jones got the next two men on forceouts and although a run scored, he was only one out away from victory.

Adcock then came off the bench to hit for Bill Bruton and he slammed Jones' second pitch into the left-center field bleachers. Police theorize the flag was pilfered during the ensuing excitement.

At any rate, Adcock's homer—his seventh of the season—enabled southpaw Warren Spahn to record his seventh victory against a single loss. Spahn yielded eight hits, including a homer by Rip Repulski's three-run homer in the first inning powered the Phillies to a 5-1 triumph over the first-place Giants. Repulski scored his circuit off loser Stu Miller, who failed to survive the first inning. Jack Sanford was touched for 10 hits but he went the distance to earn his fourth victory. It was only the fifth defeat for the Giants in their last 20 games.

Kline Wins Sixth
Frank Thomas rapped out three hits and Ronnie Kline posted his sixth victory as the Pirates tripped the last-place Dodgers, 5-3.

Successive doubles by Dick Groat, Ted Kluszewski and Thomas produced the Pirates' first two runs in the fourth and they added three more in the fifth on Bill Virdon's triple, a wild pitch, Bob Skinner's homer, Groat's triple and a single by Thomas. Kline needed help from Ron Blackburn when Los Angeles threatened in the ninth. Don Drysdale, who was charged with Pittsburgh's first four runs, suffered his eighth defeat.

Don Hoak's tenth-inning single with the bases loaded off reliever Don Elston paced Cincinnati to a 4-3 win over Chicago. The Cubs scored all their runs off starter Brooks Lawrence in the fourth inning. Walt Moryn's two-run homer featured the rally. Jerry Lynch and Frank Robinson homered for the Redlegs. Reliever Hal Jeffcoat was the winner.

Over in the American League, the Kansas City Athletics hoped all over Bob Turley to beat the first-place New York Yankees, 7-3. Bob Cerv put the A's in front with a three-run homer in the first inning and the Yankees never were able to catch up as ex-teammate Jack Urban checked them on six hits. The defeat for Turley was his first after seven victories in a row and the six earned runs he allowed totaled as many as he had allowed all year. Elston Howard homered for the Yankees.

Williams Hits Sixth
Early Wynn needed a helping hand from Gerry Staley in the ninth inning but he was credited with his fourth straight victory and fifth of the year as the White Sox topped the Senators, 7-3.

Losers Hal Griggs hurt his own cause with a two-run error in the fourth inning. Three of Chicago's runs were unearned and they were aided further by nine walks. Smerm Lollar collected three of the White Sox' six hits while Albie Pearson also had three hits for the Senators.

Despite Ted Williams' sixth homer of the season, the Detroit Tigers held on for a 3-2 win over the Boston Red Sox. Fast-baller Paul Foytack scored his fourth victory although Vito Valentin (Continued on Page 15)

Half-Milers May Be Given Extra Race

BALTIMORE (AP)—The State Racing Commission is expected to act today on a proposal which may lead to one nine-race program for each of Maryland's half-mile tracks.

Commission Chairman D. Elmore Rinehart said he is personally in favor of granting an extra race to Bel Air for Friday's Memorial Day card.

"If the other commissioners concur," he said, "we will give one nine-race program to each of the half-milers, just as we did for the mile tracks."

The ninth race was granted Pimlico for Preakness Day, Laurel for International Day and Bowie for Campbell Day, with Rinehart citing the alleviation of traffic congestion as a prime consideration. He said the extra race gave the fans longer to disperse after the feature.

There is no traffic problem with the half-milers, but Rinehart said he favors the additional race as a measure of "equality."

The chairman had objected to a Timonium proposal for each of its three Saturdays and on Labor Day, but he said he had no objection to "employing the extra race on particularly big days."

The nine-race programs started with the trotting tracks, with Roseroot given eight such nights this spring.

"The trots no longer have any rain nights and Roseroot raced three days when the weather would normally have warranted a cancellation," Rinehart said. "To help offset the poor attendance for those programs, we have granted the eight extra races."

Maryland now has 276 days of pari-mutuel racing—120 days of the mile tracks, 60 at the half-mile tracks and 96 at the harness plants.

Giles Fines Three In Duster Event

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The three key figures in last Sunday's "duster" incident at Forbes Field were under orders today to pay $100 fines, but National League president Warren Giles still was "undecided" whether the rules should be strengthened to prevent such occurrences.

Giles sent telegrams yesterday to Pittsburgh Pirate manager Danny Murtaugh and Ruben Gomez and Orlando Cepeda of the San Francisco Giants notifying them of their fines "payable by game time May 31."

The exact content of Giles' notes to the two Giant players was not known, but he told Murtaugh the facts indicate "the whole thing could have been avoided" had the Pirate manager remained on the bench.

Tribe Puts Ferrarese Back On Injured List

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland pitcher Don Ferrarese, laid up with a sore shoulder until a few days ago, went back on the Indians' injured list today with a sprained right ankle.

The little left-hander twisted his ankle and collapsed while fielding Al Pilarek's roller in the seventh inning of Tuesday night's Baltimore-Cleveland game. Ferrarese will be out of action a week or 10 days.

Orioles Sink To Seventh, Bow In Tenth

CLEVELAND (AP)—A disputed call by the plate umpire, a homer and a walk with the bases loaded spelled defeat for the Baltimore Orioles last night.

The Cleveland Indians beat the Orioles 7-6 in 10 innings, the sixth loss in a row for Baltimore. The Orioles sank to seventh place in the American League only a half game out of the cellar.

The two teams clash again this afternoon, with Jack Harshman (5-2) starting for the Orioles against Cleveland starter Calvin McLish (1-1).

Lead Until Ninth

Baltimore was leading until the ninth inning when Billy O'Dell took over the mound from starter Billy Loes. The score at that point was 6-4 in favor of the Orioles. O'Dell had two strikes on J. W. Porter and then tossed what he thought was a perfect third strike. But plate umpire Frank Umont called it a ball.

On the next pitch, Porter hit a 400-foot homer over the center-field fence scoring Billy Harrell ahead of him to tie the score. Harrell had walked to start the ninth. It was Porter's initial four-bagger of the year.

In the tenth frame O'Dell walked Mickey Vernon with the bases loaded, giving the Indians a 7-6 win.

Manager Paul Richards of the Orioles was chased by Umont for violently disputing the ninth-inning verdict on the pitch to Porter. After the game, O'Dell said "I can close my eyes and still see that third strike to Porter splitting the plate."

O'Dell Takes Loss

O'Dell took the loss, his sixth of the season against four wins. The victory went to Hoyt Wilhelm (1-0), the fourth relief pitcher for Cleveland.

The Orioles outbit the Indians 14 to 11, but all that action at the plate merely fattened the averages of Brooks Robinson, Bob Boyd and Billy Gardner. Robinson hit safely four times, Gardner three and Boyd twice. Gus Triandos hit his seventh homer of the year.

Meanwhile, Richards failed yesterday in his efforts to sign Dennis Menke, 17-year-old low high school star. Menke instead came to terms with the Milwaukee Braves at his home at Bancroft, Iowa.

In Baltimore today, baseball Commissioner Ford Frick and the presidents of the two major leagues meet with city officials to discuss arrangements for the All-Star game July 8.

Eagles Retain Pen-Mar Lead

| PEN-MAR LITTLE LEAGUE |    |    |      |
|-----------------------|----|----|------|
| Team                  | W. | L. | Pct. |
| Cresaptown            | 3  | 1  | .600 |
| Barrelville           | 3  | 1  | .600 |
| Tri-State Memorial    | 3  | 2  | .500 |
| Ellerslie             | 2  | 2  | .500 |
| LaVale Maroons        | 2  | 2  | .500 |
| LaVale Orioles        | 0  | 3  | .000 |

Cresaptown Eagles, on the six-hit pitching of Steve Vandenberg, kept its one-game lead in the Pen-Mar Little League yesterday with an 8-0 shutout over Ellerslie on the losers' diamond.

The Eagles needed the triumph to stay on top as deadlocked runner-up Barrelville and Tri-State Memorial both notched triumphs. The Barrelville entry had to shove over a pair of runs in the bottom of the sixth for a 4-3 win over LaVale Maroons while Tri-State went on a hitting rampage in routing LaVale Orioles, 20-2.

Cresaptown now has won four of five starts with Vandenberg notching three decisions. Barrelville and Tri-State have taken three of five attempts.

Vandenberg fanned 12 while Cecil soaked two of the winners' six safeties and Wamsley collected a two-bagger.

Trailing, 3-2, going into the final frame, Barrelville pulled out its triumph when Ralph Wilson was safe on an error, took third on Colon Kennell's double, scored on Gary Barb's two-bagger and then Elwood Sturtz's single sent over Kennell with the winning marker. The winners got three of their four hits in the sixth.

Colon Kennell, who took over for Ralph Wilson in the sixth, was the winner with Horn going off the way for the Maroons who dropped their second game in four starts.

Tri-State handed LaVale Orioles their fifth loss without a win as Jim Miller and Wilt paced an 18-hit attack with four hits apiece, including a homer, triple and two (Continued on Page 15)

Giardello, Winner Of Last 16, 'Fighter Of The Month'

NEW YORK (AP)—Joey Giardello, Philadelphia middleweight contender who is unbeaten in his last 16 fights, has been named "Fighter of the Month" for May by Ring magazine. Giardello scored a decisive victory over highly regarded Rory Calhoun to gain the honor.

Giardello's victory plus the inactivity of Gene Fullmer moved Joey into the No. 2 spot among the contenders for Ray Robinson's title. The top contender, of course, is ex-champ Carmen Basilio.

The only vacant title is in the welterweight division and that will be filled June 6 with the winner of the Virgil Akins-Vince Martinez match at St. Louis. The Ring lists Akins as No. 1 and Martinez No. 2.

In the heavyweight division, Eddie Machen of Redding, Calif., and Zora Folley of Chandler, Ariz., again are ranked even, sharing the No. 1 contender position. Folley soon will risk his high rating against Pete Rademacher, the former Olympic champion who was the last to fight heavyweights champion Floyd Patterson.

One new face is found among the top 10 heavies, Sonny Liston of Philadelphia, replacing idle Wayne Bethea.

The lightweight rankings were shuffled with Kenny Lane moving up to No. 2, right behind Dullio Lol of Italy. Joey Lopes dropped from fourth to sixth after his defeat by Carlos Ortiz, unbeaten New Yorker who now is eighth.

Mantle Says He Feels Fine

KANSAS CITY (AP)—If Mickey Mantle's shoulder is sore and cutting down on his home run production, he wouldn't admit it Tuesday night.

"I feel fine," was Mickey's succinct reply to published reports that a recurrence of a shoulder injury has taken some of the power out of the New York Yankees' deluxe home run hitter.

In the first inning of the Yankee-Kansas City Athletics game a few minutes later, he drove a foul ball more than 400 feet out of the park down the right field line. It struck a cement wall some 40 feet above the playing field.

Evan Manager Casey Stengel lends credence to the theory that Mickey's right shoulder may be hampering the slugging outfielder's left-handed swinging. His right-handed batting isn't affected. The shoulder was injured in a collision at second base with Milwaukee's Red Schoendienst during the World Series last fall.

"He took some big swings and missed in the series at Washington and I notice he has been bunting occasionally since. I'd say it probably is hurting him some," the old professor opined.

PARKERSBURG (AP)—Sistersville reigned today as king of West Virginia's scholastic golf teams. The Tyler County schools four-man team defeated Parkersburg in a 9-hole play-off after the two teams tied 28-318 over the regulation 18-hole route.

Broken Jaw Not Halting Cerv's Bat

By United Press International
You may shut Bob Cerv's mouth but even the New York Yankees can't stop his loud-sounding bat.

Cerv, the muscular outfielder of the Kansas City Athletics, playing with his broken jaw wired shut, drove in four runs last night as the A's belted the Bombers, 7 to 3.

The 32-year-old slugger, sold by the Yankees to KC in 1956, had the pleasure of helping to hand New York's Bob Turley his first loss of the season after seven straight wins.

Cerv, who went on a homer rampage against his former mates when the A's visited Yankee Stadium earlier in the season, treated the home folks at Municipal Stadium to the same as he blasted Turley for a three-run homer in the first inning.

The round-tripper was Cerv's 12th of the year and kept him in the lead in the American League home run derby.

He also singled in the seventh inning to drive in his 36th run of the season. This is also a league-leading high.

Sugar Ray Won't Fight This Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson says he isn't going to fight again this year.

"I can't afford to," says the middleweight champion. "The way the tax situation is it would even cost me money."

That's the way Ray sees it today. He's been known to change his mind.

Robinson discussed his future plans after he seconded his sparring partner, Otis Woodard, 160½ of New York, to a second straight victory over Eddie Andrews, 159½, of Lowell, Mass., at St. Nicholas Arena Monday night. Andrews once again had ex-middleweight king Rocky Graziano in his corner.

Woodard opened nasty cuts over both of Andrews' eyes to win on a TKO in 2:41 of the fifth round.

Sanner Heads Local Chapter Of Red Cross

Budget Discussed With Directors, Navy Film Shown

The Allegany County Chapter, American Red Cross yesterday elected C. M. Sanner, LaVale, as chairman.

During the board of directors meeting held at the Red Cross offices in the Post Office Building, Dr. Lillian C. Compton was named vice-chairman, succeeding Douglas Bowie.

Ralph R. Webster was elected recording secretary and will succeed C. N. Hill of Frostburg. Elected treasurer was Robert L. Ebert, who succeeds W. Donald Smith.

Sanner discussed the 1957-58 budget with the directors who were elected last week. Petty Officer Ronald Heinshon of the Navy recruiting office showed a movie, "On The Job For You," a review of first aid services of the Red Cross.

Mrs. George W. Legge, executive secretary of the chapter, said the Water Safety Committee is making plans to work up a schedule of life saving courses for beginners, intermediates, juniors and seniors.

Members of the committee recently distributed a pamphlet "Teaching Johnny To Swim," which shows proper methods of learning how to swim.

Anyone desiring a copy of the leaflet may contact Mrs. Legge at the local Red Cross office on the third floor of the Post Office.

GRADUATE — Charles E. Trumbull, 201 Buchanan Avenue, LaVale, will graduate magna cum laude with a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering at the 88th commencement exercises of the University of Massachusetts on Sunday. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman A. Trumbull.

SRC Dockets Damage Suit On Road Job

An equity suit has been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court by the State Roads Commission in which an injunction is asked to correct a drainage condition on U. S. Route 220 at Rawlings.

Defendants in the suit are Charles W. Ross and Elsie Ross, his wife, of Rawlings. The defendants acquired certain land abutting Route 220 by deed dated on or about July 12, 1956. At that time, the bill of complaint asserts, a branch of Mill Run ran through the area unimpeded.

The SRC goes on to charge that on or about October 15, 1957, the Rosses constructed a roadway over their property, filled in the natural course of the stream and unlawfully diverted the stream onto the property of the state agency. After hard rains, the shoulder of the highway is eroded, causing irreparable damage to the highway, the SRC says.

The agency requests an injunction from the court ordering the defendants to cease diverting the stream of water and return it to its former condition. The bill of complaint was signed by Attorney General C. Ferdinand Sybert, Joseph D. Buscher, assistant attorney general, and Frederick A. Puderbaugh, special attorney for the case.

Newscaster Thomas Marks 66th Year

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK — (UPI) — This being May 28 in Lowell, Thomas marks his 66th birthday as a one-man communications industry, we can note several facets of the gentleman as he operates today.

He recently passed his 66th birthday, tonight he may be seen in the CBS-TV channels in the latest of his "High Adventure" travelcasts, and because he never did keep absolutely accurate count, tonight he also could even be delivering his 15,000th radio broadcast via the CBS radio network.

Tonight his "High Adventure" takes him to Morocco where the diversion will be romantic, futuristic and a little scary.

Well, "High Adventure" aside, today we pick Lowell Thomas as the best newscaster in radio. Not in TV. We have another nomination therein, and anyway, Lowell doesn't operate in the TV newscasting field regularly.

But over the years Lowell Thomas' radio quarter hours have been good, useful, entertaining. We became more certain of this in recent years when we took protracted vacations on tropical islands at least one day removed from New York newspapers; or any newspapers for that matter. We tried all the network newscasters. Thomas' newscasts did contain news. Not slants. Not crowd-selected topics stressing the sociological and ideological and leftylogical.

Thomas' news was coated with a rich thick surface of featurey stuff, and he would exercise his special little tricks, but after you heard his 15 minutes you had a pretty good notion of what was happening back in the world he lived in, not in the world others wish to inflict on us.

He has stature and intelligence and his shows aren't just quick tricks surrounding several commercial. He's a good news showman, but he's a newscaster, and his stuff shows it.

His radio's very best newscaster. Douglas Edwards is our choice again this year as TV's best newscaster.

He is good, solid, straightforward, selects hard news and not slants and does a calm, steady and effectively informative job of giving viewers the unvarnished news, leaning neither to left nor right.

Everything about him — his manner, his efficiency, inability to be emotionally thrown, makes him an exceptionally fine TV newscaster. He's the very best at it.

Seniors Get Diplomas, But Without Exams

PARIS, Ky. (AP) — North Middletown High School handed out diplomas to 22 seniors, then took them back.

The next day the class returned for final examinations. It wasn't an oversight.

Bad weather and a flu epidemic forced North Middletown to extend the school term, but it couldn't work out a satisfactory date for commencement exercises after final examinations.

Officials decided to give out the diplomas unsigned. Seniors who pass will get theirs back — signed — in an informal ceremony Friday.

City's New Pumper Goes Into Service

Passes Intensive Tests Yesterday, Instruction Slated

Cumberland's new $25,000 American-LaFrance 1,250-gallon-a-minute pumper was put into service this morning at Central Fire Station, according to Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker.

The triple-combination pumper, recently shipped here from the factory at Elmira, N. Y., was put through extensive tests yesterday afternoon at the Constitution Park pool.

Chief Parker said the pumper exceeded the standards set up by the Maryland Underwriters Rating Bureau and was accepted for the city by Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan, who expressed satisfaction with the new semi-cab truck.

The tests were observed by John Hines, representative of the bureau, according to Chief Parker who said the truck met the requirements with ease.

The gruelling tests were held for over three hours. The chief said key drivers and operators have been instructed on the use of the pumper.

Regular drivers will be given pump and driving instructions by Assistant Chief Robert C. Long, department training officer.

When a master stream was needed during a major fire before the arrival of the new pumper, Central firemen had to await the arrival of firemen from West Side or South End in order to hook up a water tower or deluge set, Chief Parker pointed out.

The new pumper will replace a 1937 model 500-gallon pumper which is to be completely overhauled, repainted and moved to East Side station. The 1936 pumper at that station will be overhauled and repainted and kept at Central Fire Station as spare equipment.

The V12 American LaFrance with 750-gallon capacity now at Central will be sent to West Side. The 1924 pumper which was at West Side has been taken to the City Warehouse for storage.

This disease — caused by pressure of eye fluids on the optic nerve — leads to blindness. But it does not have to! A simple test spots it and, if you treat it soon enough, it can be checked...

Regular drivers will be given pump and driving instructions by Assistant Chief Robert C. Long, department training officer.

When a master stream was needed during a major fire before the arrival of the new pumper, Central firemen had to await the arrival of firemen from West Side or South End in order to hook up a water tower or deluge set, Chief Parker pointed out.

The new pumper will replace a 1937 model 500-gallon pumper which is to be completely overhauled, repainted and moved to East Side station. The 1936 pumper at that station will be overhauled and repainted and kept at Central Fire Station as spare equipment.

The V12 American LaFrance with 750-gallon capacity now at Central will be sent to West Side. The 1924 pumper which was at West Side has been taken to the City Warehouse for storage.

Mapleside Streets Will Be Oiled Soon

The Cumberland Street Department will oil streets in the Mapleside area next week.

Crews have been busy several weeks and have completed streets on the East Side and yesterday were in the Winifred Road area.

Other crews are working in all sections of the city, patching holes left after the roughest winter in years.

Garbage Collection

Mayor Charles H. Fryer of Ridgeley has announced that garbage will be collected there on Saturday, instead of Friday, because of the Memorial Day holiday.

Beall Wants Reinhardt To Keep GOP Job

BALTIMORE (AP)—Sen. Beall (R-Md.) said today he will try to talk D. Eldred Reinhardt of Smithsburg into continuing as chairman of the Maryland Republican party.

Reinhardt had been planning to resign for some time and has reaffirmed he will not be a candidate for the party job after the state convention June 7.

He has been GOP chairman since 1952. At the same time, he has been chairman of the State Racing Commission.

Beall, who will be seeking reelection in November, said Reinhardt has been "the best party chairman Maryland has had in my time."

"I'm going to stop him from resigning if I can," Beall was elected senator in 1954, and John Marshall Butler reelected senator in 1956 with Reinhardt as state chairman of the GOP.

Actress Helen Hayes was born October 10, 1900.

Sunday Blue Law Attacked In Clarksburg

CLARKSBURG (AP)—This city's proposed Sunday blue law came under attack last night at a Citizens Rally held at Carmichael Auditorium.

Dr. Frank H. Yost, editor of Liberty magazine and secretary of the International Religious Library Assn., described in prepared remarks a counter resolution which he said would be submitted to City Council.

The resolution recommended that the council reverse its action of a week ago, when it approved the Sunday-closing ordinance, and table it.

Yost argued that the law violated religious liberty.

"Sunday laws are unfair," he said. "The proposed Clarksburg Sunday ordinance is unfair. It cannot be otherwise. If the Sunday laws of this county were enforced right down the line, and all worldly activity stopped on Sunday, the happiness of every citizen would be destroyed."

"In fact, the people would raise up and demand their repeal. How are the exceptions illegal? No one knows. They are illegal and discriminatory."

Other speakers at the rally urged all citizens to make known their views to council members.

Date To Protest

CHARLESTON (AP)—Public utility companies operating in the state will have an opportunity June 4-6 to protest tentative valuations set on their properties for 1958 by the State Tax Department.

Blast, Fire Shake Town Early Today

WINFIELD, Md. (AP)—An explosion followed by fire shook this Carroll County town early today.

State Police said at least 12 fire companies from other localities in Carroll, Frederick, Baltimore, Howard and Montgomery counties answered the alarms.

Two adjoining structures housing Rosy's Auction and Stem's Store, a farm implement establishment, were demolished, police said. A house to the rear of these structures also caught fire and was about three-quarters gone before the fire was declared under control at 4 a. m. (EDT).

No one was reported hurt by the blast or fire and all occupants of the house were evacuated safely, police reported.

They said the explosion apparently took place in the auction building and threw shattered glass across the road. Firemen at first had trouble obtaining sufficient water but the problem was partly alleviated by a nearby pond.

Winfield is located on Maryland 26 about 10 miles southwest of Westminster.

Poll Workers For City To Meet Tonight

Earl E. Manges, chairman of the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors, and Irvin Neal, chief clerk, will conduct the program. The city primary will be held under supervision of the county board.

Neal said that the county poll books will be reopened next Monday so that eligible persons may register in time for the general election next November.

The average dairy cow requires up to 40 gallons of water daily.

The Cumberland Recreation Department has announced that Thomas Counihan, Waverly Terrace, has been named manager of the swimming pool at Constitution Park.

He and other members of the staff of the pool will be formally appointed by the Mayor and Council later, according to C. Eugene Mason, rec director.

The pool will open Friday at noon and will be open on weekends from 12 to 9 p. m. until June 12, when it goes on full schedule.

Mason said admission to the pool will remain the same as last year, 35 cents for adults and 15 cents for children under 12.

Mistake In P's Confuses Board

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Chief Clerk Murray W. Snyder of Allegheny County appeared before the county commissioners and read a request for an "all-purpose push-button stripper."

"What will the taxpayers think," said Commissioner Howard B. Stewart. "Read that again."

Snyder then said the request was for an "all-purpose push-button stripper." It's an $8,600 machine used to paint traffic stripes on roads.

Committee Recommends Changes At Rosewood

BALTIMORE (AP)—A committee of the State Planning Commission has recommended that admissions to Rosewood State Training School be controlled by the superintendent and staff.

The institution at Owings Mills, Baltimore County, now must take persons committed by courts, as do the mental hospitals.

The recommendation was included in a report approved by the commission's committee on medical care.

The group also said admissions should be restricted to available staff and space and young children be limited to those severely retarded who cannot be cared for at home.

Other recommendations included: Relieving doctors and nurses of non-professional duties. Creation of a special "cottage-life department" with a trained director.

Prompt placement in regular cottages of newly admitted children, now kept in admission wards of the hospital.

Must Okeh Loans

CHARLESTON (AP)—State FHA Director W. Herbert Welch has disclosed that Federal Housing Administration headquarters in Washington must approve all loans insured by his agency.
